galumphing

galumphing is one of the major talents that characterize the higher forms of life. Galumphing is immaculately precipitous and seemingly inexhaustible game power of puppies, kittens, children, walking age mandrels... and also of communities and civilizations. Galumphing is the elaboration and apparently useless ornamentation of the activity. It is licentious, excessive, exaggerated, uneconomic. Galumphing is to hop instead of walk, take the more scenic route instead of the shorter, a game whose rules require a limitation on our power play, interested in the media more for weekends. We voluntarily created obstacles in our way and we had fun overcoming them. In more evolved animals and people it has Supreme evolutionary value.
