

SPANISH DICTIONARY

Danilo Enrique Noreña Benítez

INTRODUCTION

www.wordmeaning.org is an open and collaborative dictionary project that, apart from being able to consult meanings of words, also offers its users the possibility of including new words or nuancing the meaning of existing words in it. As is understandable, this project would be impossible to carry out without the esteemed collaboration of the people who follow us around the world. This e-Book, therefore, was born with the intention of paying a small tribute to all our collaborators.

Danilo Enrique Noreña Benítez has contributed to the dictionary with 35033 meanings that we have approved and collected in this small book. We hope that the reader is very valuable and if you find it useful or want to be part of the project, do not hesitate to visit our website, we will be delighted to receive you.

Working Group

www.wordmeaning.org

escabullirse

It means getting lost, hiding, running away, running away, evading, slipping.

escachar

In Colombia, it means fail in the attempt to hit a ball, hitting the air or the ground. Colloquially also say burst you the chain, left of stray (strike, baseball), means make mistakes, fail, not atinar, not hitting.

escaciabanles

escaciabanles is incorrectly written, and should be written as "Escaceabanles" as meaning:
The correct term is escaceabanles. It is an inflection of curbing. It means that they are already depleted them, ended them, missing them. Les escaceaban. Missing, lessen, reduce, lower.

escalada

Scale inflection, which means climbing. ascend, climb. It means climb, climb, ascent.

escaladas

It can mean promotions or raises. Climbing to a Summit or a mountain. It can also mean barrages, sequences, seguidillas, tonga, salva.

escalafones

Listing offering a sort of people according to parameters previously set order. Classification of a group of people according to their age, level of expertise, age or level of wages. List established ranges, parameters, or scales.

escalamientos

It means climbs, ascents. Climbed. It's the climbing exercises. Mountaineering or climbing activities to summits.

escalda

It is the name of a river of Europe, which was born in France and runs through the Netherlands and Belgium. Important river of the Flanders region.

escaldadura

Step action or effect. Burn or irritation caused by continuous rubbing of clothing or contact with hot liquids. Scalding.

escaldo

It was the name given to the ancient Viking warrior poets. They belonged to the court of the Scandinavian kings of the Middle Ages and were authors of epic songs, family epics and heroic poems.

escalera

It's the same as staircase. Construction or structure that allows you to communicate various levels or heights. Element built with two slats or ropes and several steps or steps that allows you to climb or climb heights. Element used for scaling . In Colombia ladder in a type of vehicle, bus or truck that serves to transport cargo and passengers. We also call it mixed bus, simply mixed or chiva. It is widely used in rural regions and in places where peasant or indigenous communities prevail.

escaleretas

The Escaleretas is a place of great importance within the Natural Park Sierra de Las Nieves in Parauta, Málaga province in Spain. There is an special geological, climatic zone, and there is a copy of Spanish FIR (FIR species), which are calculated more than 500-year-old.

escalona

It is a surname of Spanish origin, especially in the province of Huesca. In Colombia is the surname of one of the greatest composers of the genre of vallenato music. Rafael Calixto Escalona Martinez, was better known as the master Escalona. Escalona is also the name of a Colombian Telenovela that chronicled the life of the remarkable composer. It is also an inflection of staggered, meaning graduate set scales, categorize, form treads or belts. Do something by stages. Rank.

escalonada

It means that it has steps or rungs. That it is organized or distributed in a gradual and progressive manner. It has several stages that follow one after the other.

escalonar

Staggering inflection. It means to graduate, hierarchize, level. Distribute or distribute in an orderly manner in spaces or in time. By intervals .

escaloña

It is an Asian variety of onions. It means Chinese onion variety. It is also called a cast, charlotte, shallot, shallot. Its scientific name is Allium ascalonicum and belongs to the family Amaryllidaceae.

escalope

It is the name given to a thin slice of meat, frightened and fried. It can be beef, veal, pork or even chicken.

escalón

Augmentative of scale . Step , harrow, scale . Each of the platforms that on different levels form a staircase. Each of the parameters set for a promotion or progression. Partial success, intermediate achievement.

escalpe

Hair torn by the Sioux from their enemies and considered a war trophy. Name given to the wound left by tearing off the scalp.

escalpamiento

Scalping can also be used. It is cutting or tearing off the scalp. It was a trophy of war between Native American tribes.

escalplo

It is a type of very sharp blade, which the tanning thighs of leg skin scrape them. Blade used in tanneries.

escama

Corneal plate that covers the body of the fish and some reptiles. Flattened blade. Scars covering wounds or skin infections. In Colombia of the bulla colloquial fashion, scandal, noise. Beat Flake is to make scandal, trumpeting a gossip.

escamandro

Name of a Cretan prince, married to nymph Ida or Idea and who were parents of Teucro. Name of the river that ran through the Valley of Escamandria, near Troy, in the mythology of Ancient Greece. Janto River. It was the name of the god of rivers or just the river-god.

escamas de sapo

It is a so-called shamanic ritual where he intends to use ancestral plants in human consumption. The molecule of God or DMT, is known to be the most powerful hallucinogen of the developing world in drug for addicts disguised as friends of ancestral medicine.

escamocha

It is the name given in Mexico to a preparation of chopped fruits with juice of various citrus fruits. It is very special from Jalisco and in other regions is called bionic. It is similar to what in Colombia we call fruit salad, fruit cocktail or splash. There are several kinds of fruits chopped in squares or cubes and to which are added some juice of one of them or orange juice. There are many ways to prepare them and in some cases they add yogurt or cream of milk. In some countries and in Spain, leftover food is told to flaky or flaky.

escamoso

In Colombia it is used as a synonym for bragging. Fantoche, smug, vain, bluff, believable, presumptuous, ostentatious. It has the body covered with scales.

escamotear

It means manipulating, hiding or disappearing. Deceive by hand play. Steal, steal, subtract. To vanish is to run away, to flee.

escancia

Turning of pouring, which means pouring, serving, casting, trasegar. Pouring of a liquor from quite a height over a glass or a glass.

escanciar

It means drinking, libar, drink, sip. Action of serving the wine in the glasses.

escanda

It is the same as spelt or spelt. Large and coarse grain wheat. Rustic wheat . It is a variety of wheat, with scientific name Triticum spelta. It is known as spelt wheat, major spelt, major spelt or spelt wheat. It is a hybrid of the Wild Spelt (Triticum dicoccoides). It has been cultivated in the Iberian Peninsula for about 5000 years.

escandalo

The correct term is (tilde) scandal. In Colombia is synonymous with flocking, outrage, hubbub, bulla, revolt, disorder, chaos, confusion, mess, anarchy, riot, get, rina, gazapera.

escandilar

escandilar is incorrectly written, and should be written as "Dazzling" being its meaning:
The correct term is dazzling. It means to momentarily blind by focusing a light directly in the eyes. Dazzle your eyes.

escandinavia

It is an extensive region of Europe composed of Denmark, Sweden, Norway, Iceland, Faroe Islands and part of Finland (they are called Scandinavian countries). Countries of Viking ancestors.

escandinavo

It means that it is native to Scandinavia, a northern European region. It consists of several countries: Sweden, Norway, Denmark, Iceland, Faroe Islands and part of Finland. You can also reference a Nordic source language. It is divided into East Scandinavian (Danish, Selandic, Funen) and Western Scandinavian (Icelandic, Faroese, Norwegian).

escaneos

Plural of Scan. Scan action or effect. Is to revise or copy with a scanner. Scanning is to get images of the inside of something using a scanner. It's also getting a picture of a text and saving it as a file on the computer.

escangallar

In some regions of Spain, it means to disrupt, destroy, spoil, damage, decompose, disarm. Break, fractionate.

escanio

A term that is being used by Spanish speakers to indicate seat. This is because on many computer or mobile keyboards there is no ñ. Seat, is a type of chair with back. In Politics it is the same as curul or put in a legislative body (senate, chamber, assembly, council).

escanol

It is another common name in Mexico overlooking the trees of acacia (family fabaceae).

escaño

Chair with backrest and puffed. Each of the seats or chairs parliamentary. Site where you can sit comfortably.

escaparate

In the interior of Colombia is synonymous with Dresser, wardrobe. It also means stained-glass, display cabinet, shelf, desk.

escaparme rapido

In colloquial way Colombia is slipping away, leaving a place soon (usually from the office, to go to the House). It is also evade or avoid something that is uncomfortable or annoying.

escapo

It's a turning point of escaping. It means running away, running away, leaving. Save yourself, avoid. In Botany is the name of a stem that comes out of the rhizome, is devoid of leaves and at the end supports a flower.

escapulario

It is a rope that is used as a necklace and carrying on the front a few cloths with sacred images. It is used by religious and very devout Catholics. It is also a piece of long cloth, part of the dress of some congregations (especially Carmelites) by way of semicapa. It is called monastic scapular.

escara

It is a portion of necrotic tissue, which can appear on the skin or subcutaneous tissue. Used as a synonym for crust, caracha (though the crust is really different).

escarabajo

They're the same cardrivers or coleoptera. It is estimated that there are more than 375. 000 species. They are insects that have consistent wings and form a kind of box that protects their bodies. They belong to the Coleoptera Order. In the world cycling slang is the nickname by which every Colombian pedalist is known, for the fame of being very good climbers. In Colombia beetle is the popular way to call the German car Volkswagen Beetle, also known as volko, vocho or flea. It is a small car, very resistant and that does not have a radiator.

escaramujo

Fruit of the wild rose.

escaramujos

It is the same as rose hip or what they call tapaculos in Spain. They are the fruits in Berry of the plants in the family Rosaceae. Petals pink matte result. Cinorrodon.

escaramuza

It is a short between two groups of people. In Colombia is synonymous with fray, get, gazapera, flurry, Brawl, scandal, rina, pendency, pomp.

escarapela

In Colombia it is a kind of card that is carried with tape to the neck or attached to the height of a nipple, in order to identify itself. It is used in companies or also in events such as a congress. It can also be a type of ornament made with colored ribbons, which can also be called rosette, rosette or cucarda. In Argentina, patriotic symbol. Inflection of cockling, which means scraping, scratching, peeling, removing or removing scars.

escarapelar

Remove the scars or scabs, scraping. In Colombia it means raer, scraping and sanding. Remove the surface layers of something, Peel.

escarapuche

The scarapuche can also be a dish prepared with pieces of pork, rabbit or beef, which can be roasted in a pan accompanied by paprika, tomato. onion, olive oil, vinegar and salt. In some forms of preparation egg is also added.

escarar

It is the process of forming scab, scab or caracha in a wound or burn. Necrotic tissue that after a certain time covers a wound or burn. In Medicine is the generation of a necrotic tissue due to a burn, wound or laceration.

escaras

Plural of escara . Carachas, scabs. In Colombia escara is a portion of necrotic tissue, which can appear on the skin or in the subcutaneous tissue, during the healing process in a wound or burn. It is used as a synonym for scab , caracha (Although the scab is really different). They are also wounds or peels that occur in a patient by permanent rubbing of the skin with the sheets.

escarbar

It means search, dig or remove. Dig, dig, dig. By extension research, find out, snoop around, squinting, inquire.

escarbón

It means that he digs a lot, that he investigates, that he scrutinizes.

escarbroita

To say that it is of Scandinavia, Scandinavian origin. It is the name of a mineral that is also called tucanita.

escarcela

In Colombia and especially the coffee, it means small portfolio, Holster, purse.

escarchilla

It is a diminutive of frost. It means very Petite frost. What a snow. Very often volatile ice.

escarda

It can be an inflection of weeding, which means weeding, cleaning, weeding or weeding. It is also the name of a special tool, a kind of hoe that is used to weed the weed.

escardar

It means weeding, weeding, weeding. Eliminate weeds, herbs or undesirable plants in cultivated or farmed land. Remove thistles. It can also be called clean or cleaning.

escardiendo

It is an inflection of weeding, which means separating the good from the bad or pulling weeds from a crop, weeding.

escardilla

It is one of the ways of calling in Venezuela a hoe, hoe or jada, a tool for agricultural use.

escardillar

It means using the shear by digging the ground. Hoisting, staggering, wallowing or digging the ground. this term is thus used in Venezuela. Dig.

escarigüela

It is also possible to use the terms escarihuela or carihuela. It is a term used to designate very narrow and steep roads or paths, built in zigzags on very steep or steep mountain slopes, sometimes being necessary to carve rock or stone. It is mostly used in the regions of Granada and Murcia in Spain.

escarihuela

Narrow, stony and zigzagging road built on the slopes of steep mountains. Crossing. The term carihuela can also be used in the same sense.

escarlata

It means bright red, red on, red. It was the name of a fabric of Asian origin. Scarlet is also a way to call the Scarlet Ibis, Scarlet ibis, cedar, guara or red heron. Its scientific name is Eudocimus ruber and belongs to the family Threskiornithidae.

escarnio

Very cruel mockery that is made in public. Humiliation, affront, outrage.

escarnioso

It means that it mocks, that it mocks. He makes offensive taunts. That makes a mockery.

escarola

It is one of the common names of an edible plant. It is also known as chicory, Endive, indibia, salad, radicchio or Romaine lettuce. . Its scientific name is Cichorium endivia and belongs to the family Asteraceae.

escarolar

It means pleating, folding, folding, pucker, pucker, curl. Give forms or folds a paper or a fabric.

escarpa

You can also use escarpd. It means slope or inclination in Topography. In Architecture is the inclined plane of a wall of a fortification. Slipper, sloping plane, skirt.

escarpia

It is a kind of nail that has the head bent or bent, which allows objects or ropes to hang on it.

escarpines

Species of wool stockings used by babies. Type of closed shoes, lightweight, single seam and single sole. Wool woven shoes for babies.

escasa o escaza

low or scarce is incorrectly written and should be written as "Sparse" being its meaning:
The right thing is sparse. It is an adverb of quantity in the feminine. Means the amount that is less than the expected or needed. Little, limited, little, short, poor, lacking, needy, incomplete, insufficient.

escases

scarcity is incorrectly written and it should be written as "Shortages" being its meaning:
The word is not written correctly. The right thing is scarcity. It means poverty, missing essentials, that is not enough, what is required. Diminishing of one thing. Poquedad, meanness, stunted.

escatimar

It means saving, saving, reducing the amount that is used or spent of something. Keep, book, take care.

escativar

It means taking a very heavy blow, taking a root, falling violently.

escato

It is a Greek prefix which means manure, excrement.

escatofobia

It means fear or aversion to fecal matter or excrement.

escatomancia

It is the type of purported divination that is done by analyzing fecal matter (in some cases from animals). It is also known as co-production.

escatopléjico

Refers to a person who can only communicate in vulgar or bland terms. Inability to use decent language. It can also mean out-of-place, you are not compliant anywhere.

escatófago

It's the same as slab or copybar. It is the way to designate an animal that feeds on manure or excrement.

escaupil

It was a padded or cotton-coated shirt that the Mexican Indians used as armor or armor. Cotton breastplate. The word derives from the term in Nahuatl ichcahuipilli meaning cotton shirt.

escayola

A layer of plaster that covers a bone so that it is immobilized. Splint.

escábrido

In botany, it is the plant organ that has rough surfaces, made up of rigid hairs. Of stiff hairs. Rough

escálamó

It is a rounded stake where the oars, canaletes or levers of the small wooden boats are moored. Nightstick, Mace. Rods of metal that serves as support for the rowing. Cabilla, stake, ball bearing, fork.

escápula

In anatomy, is a large, flat, and triangular bone of the shoulder. It is another name that has the scapula. In Colombia we also tell palette.

eschilampado

It's an achilampar inflection. In the peasant slang of Costa Rica and especially of the coffee producers is the agronomic practice of eliminating branches that do not have coffee beans or leftover branches of the coffee. Coffee to which leftover or fruitless branches have been removed.

esciarro

It is a term used in Geology and Geophysics. It means boiling lava course, lava flow. Incandescent lava flow, coming from an erupting volcano.

escincomorfos

It has the shape of a skinco or a sly. Real lizards. They belong to the Infraorder or Superfamily Scincomorpha of reptiles.

escinde

It is an inflection of splitting, which means cutting. It means short, divide, cut, section, separate. In physics it is the action of bombarding the atomic nucleus with neutrons and is done to release energy.

escindir

It means cut, split, cercen, section, separate. In Physics is the action of bombarding the atomic nucleus with neutrons and is done to release energy.

esciros

It is the name of one of the Spuradas Islands (meaning scattered), which are located in the Aegean Sea and belong to Gracia.

esclavina

It is a kind of mozzetta, neck or short layer used by pilgrims in the processions. Short coat that some clerics use on their garments.

esclavizante

That demands total dedication. Not allowing rest. That requires much effort.

esclera

In medicine it is the membrane of white, thick and resistant that constitutes the outermost layer of the eyeball. It is very rich in Collagen fibers. It is also called sclera.

esclerodermia

In Medicine, it's the name of a skin disease. Dermatological disease . It means that the skin gets hard and rough with bulges. It is due to abnormal growth of connective tissues, so it can also affect internal organs.

escoba

Home implementation that is used for sweeping . Flying horse used by witches. Jocular name given to the accompanying vehicle of the cycle races that goes far behind the peloton picking up the athletes who retire. Name of a Colombian tropical song.

escobal

Place where there are many brooms. Place where there are many brooms, which is a tree also called in Colombia white claw, plank, body, spilon or ribbon. In the name of broom it is mostly used in the anti-ooqueña region. Its scientific name is Xylopia amazonica from the family Annonaceae. Name of a Alto in Antioquia . Name of a Wasteland and a Vereda in El Cocuy, Boyacá.

escobazo

It is the blow that is given with a broom. Blow that formerly gave the mothers to the children who annoyed them when they did trade or that was used to scare the chickens of the patio.

escobilla

Common name of many herbaceous plants that serve to make brooms. In car mechanics is the name of two charcoals or graphite blocks that go at the start of the engine. Diminutive broom. Small broom, broom. It is usually used to clean the bathrooms.

escobillón

Squeegee and broom augmentative . Large broom used to sweep the floor. Type of brush for cleaning the floor. A long-handled instrument at the end of which is a cylinder with bristles, which is used to clean the barrel of guns. It is also one of the common names for a plant, also known as red calistemo or brush tree. Its scientific name is Callistemon citrinus and it belongs to the family Myrtaceae. Callistemon means beautiful stamens.

escobitas

In Colombia and especially in Bogotá is the term that was used in the past with Edis (toilet company) employees. By extension used today with public cleaners.

escochín

It is one of the multiple forms of Mexicans from the coasts of the Gulf to call to fish, but especially the Balistes polylepis in the Balistidae family. Also say you Cachudo, cochi, boot, cochito, triggerfish, pig comal, guns.

escocia

It is the name of a country in the United Kingdom whose capital is Edinburgh. Another major city is Glasgow.

escoge

It is an inflection of choose. It means choosing, choose, select, prefer, take, highlight, set aside, separate.

escogerme

Action in which I am separated or preferred in any kind of election or among a group of candidates. Choose me, choose me, highlight me, depart, prefer me, separate me.

escoito

Escoito is a word in Galician. Then I hear, I hear.

escolapio

A priest belonging to the order of Saint Joseph of Calasanz. Cure, priest or cleric poor and regular of the order of Mother Mary. They are also called Piarists or Calasancios. Mostly dedicated to Christian education in poor communities.

escolar

It is one of the common names receiving the marine fish Lepidocybium flavobrunneum of the family Gempylidae. Other common names: fish oil (Uruguay), oil (Cuba), miramelindo or miramelinda (Ecuador). It is located in all the seas. In Japan is considered toxic because of the high content of fatty esters and its consumption is forbidden.

escolarca

Name given in Ancient Greece to the Director of a school of Philosophy. Rector, guarantor of the coherence of doctrine.

escolequifobia

It means fear of worms (larvae).

escolgar

The correct term is off-hook. Get an object from which is hung. In Colombia used to say down, removal, get, remove. SAG, is used in cycling slang to denote it is lowered at high speed.

escolio

Note or comment that is handwritten in the margin of a text or written .

escolionofobia

It is the exaggerated fear of attending an educational establishment. Fear of going to school. It can also be considered as phobia to be forced to practice a certain philosophical doctrine.

escollera

It is a type of structure as a dike and made with stones or rocks with the aim of controlling the waters of the sea. Which is formed by pitfalls. Name of a restaurant and a nightclub in Cartagena de Indias.

escollo

Inconspicuous rock that constitutes a hazard to navigation. Obstacle, problem, difficulty, reef, Bank, breaker, bajio, danger, tripping.

escolofriante

It means it produces chills or a lot of fear. It terrifies or shudders. It produces terror or dread. It can mean amazing, awesome. The greatest use is given to mean scary, shocking, creepy, horrible, dreadful, terrible.

escolta

The person who protects a character. A person who accompanies and protects permanently. Bodyguard, guarura, guardian, companion, Entourage.

escomite

It is another way to call in Mexico a variety of white beans. Its scientific name is Phaseolus acutifolius and belongs to the fabaceae family. It is native to Sonora and is also known as yorimuni, tépari, pavi, pawí.

escondedero

Site appropriate to hide or to hide something safely. Secret place, place to hide something. Hideaway, refuge, asylum, Lair, Burrow, cave, cache.

esconderse

It is the action into a hiding place. Hide, be crouching, bending.

escondite

Ideal place to relocate, if it does not find it. In Colombia has synonyms: cache, asylum, refuge, shelter, Lair, Burrow, cave, Grotto, hiding. Name of ancient and famous Bogota nightclub.

escondrijo

Secret place, place to hide something. Hideaway, refuge, asylum, Lair, Burrow, cave, hiding.

escoñetar

In Colombia it means to damage, damage, disrupt, unsettle. Unjoin a pipe at the ends, disconnect . It is also said to undo.

escopaesthesia

Scopanaesthesia is the feeling of being watched. Feel that you are being observed.

escoplo

It is a hand tool that the carpenter uses to till the wood. In Colombia we also call it formon. It is also a surgical instrument, which is used to cut bones.

escopolamina

It is the name of a powerful substance of the group of alkaloids. It is also known as burundanga or hyoscine. It can be obtained from several plants of the Solanaceae family, including belladonna, beleño, mandrágora or sabanero cocoa. In Colombia it is extracted mainly from sabanero cocoa, angel trumpet or burundanga. It has medical uses in very low doses, but its excess bends the mind and can cause death.

escopolaminas

Widely used narcotic substance to make misdeeds and committing unlawful. It is also called burundanga, datura. It is as natural alkaloid in cocoa Sabanero, Floripondio, Angel trumpet or Borrachero (Brugmansia arborea) , family Solanaceae.

escoramiento

Scurgear action and effect. It means that it leans sideways by a current or by moorings. Action of propping up the boat with the escoras.

escorar

It is a term used in seamanship. It means that it leans sideways by a current or by the moorings. Action of shoring up the boat with the heels.

escorchón

It's an augmentative of scorcha. It means discomfort, annoyance, annoyance, inconvenience. It is a term used in Argentina. Annoying, awkward, annoying. Importuno, fool, fregón.

escoria

Greyish residue resulting from the combustion of coal. Waste, ash, embers, waste, residue and debris, despoliation, sobra, impurity, dreg. It is also used to designate a vile, despicable person.

escoria de moda

It refers to the backlog, residue, dispossession, sobra, impurity, debris of fashion. Part of the fashion not current, late, or desprestigiada. Kind of fashion.

escoriaciones

It is the plural of abrasions. It means scratches, scrapes, lacerations, superficial wounds.

escorias

Plural of slag. Greyish residue resulting from the combustion of coal. Waste, ash, embers, waste, residue and debris, despoliation, sobra, impurity, dreg. It is also used to designate a vile, despicable person.

escornacabras

It can mean that it gets the goats drunk, that it intoxicates the goats. It is one of the names of a pioneering shrub plant of ecological interest. Its scientific name is Pistacia terebinthus and belongs to the family Anacardiaceae. It is known by other common names: horns, horns, charneta, bugle, lentisco, jentisco, descuernacabra or terebinto. Its fruits are desired by various birds. It is native to the Western Mediterranean.

escorredor

In Colombia we use the terms colander or drainer. They are channels and ditches to help drain the flooded or flood waters. We also say curbs or gutters. Perimeter channels are called in the oil industry. Drains, drainage channels.

escorrentía

It is the name given to the natural flow of rainwater, by the action of gravity. Action or effect of draining. Rainwater that drains freely through a piece of land.

escorzos

It was a technique in painting that was intended to obtain the appearance of third dimension in a box, giving it more volume and intensity to painting. It was used from about 300 A. C. until the middle ages. Bumps.

escota

In Nautical it is a type of rope or cape that serves to hunt or tighten the sails.

escote

Neckline of a blouse. Free or clear space that leaves a blouse on a woman's chest or back.

escotero

In Colombia it means that it has no ornaments or washers. Simple. It is also used to designate that you travel without suitcases or cargo. It can mean single, lonely, single, isolated, squat or helpless.

escotilla

In Nautical is each of the openings found on each deck of a ship. Openings on the deck of the ship that allows you to climb or go up to another level.

escotoma

It is an alteration in the field of vision in which there is an area in which vision is null. Blind spot.

escotomafobias

fears of going blind, fears of blindness (even temporary). Fear of not being able to see.

escozor

Annoying sensation in the skin produced by hives. Desires to scratch. Piquiña , itching , hives , scratches , itching , pruritus , itching . It can also mean cravings, desires, desires, longings, commitment, eagerness.

escrache

It is the name given to the protests at home. They are made at the place of residence or office of the officer that police or objects to which the mass.

escracher

It is a word of Occitan origin (old French) that is derived from protest. Escracher is a person who takes part in a protest. Escrache is a type of demonstration which consists of going to protest directly to the home or office (office) the official who wants to denounce something affecting the community. It is widely used in the Southern Cone of South America (Argentina, Chile, Uruguay, Paraguay,) and in Venezuela and Spain.

escrespado

In Colombia means of Kinky hair with curls. It also means malgeniado, bravo, in a bad mood, angry. Rough sea, with many waves, blustery.

escriba

Knowledgeable and interpreter of Hebrew law. Person who takes dictations, translates or copies texts. Amanuense, copyist, scribe, scribe.

escribano

A person who was devoted to hand copy the writings and documents. Notary public. Write, clerk, notary, clerk, Secretary, employee, typist, typesetter, scribe, scribe and calligrapher, substantiating.

escribiendo

It is an inflection of writing. It means making graphs with a pencil. Scratch, write.

escriño

It means basket or basket made with straw.

escrito circular

A circular or circular letter is a briefing note which is shared or distributed to all those deemed interested in its content.

escritorio

Furniture used for writing. Furniture or writing table of the clerk, student or scribe. It usually has drawers to store papers.

escrofulosis

Inflammation of the lymph nodes of the neck by tuberculosis. Scrofulae. In medicine it is an infectious process that affects the lymph nodes, especially those of the neck. It was highly studied and described in several books by the French physician Jean Guillaume Auguste Lugol. It is caused by the bacterium Mycobacterium tuberculosis agent causing tuberculosis.

escrofúlido

Who suffers from scrofula. Tubercules are a bacterial condition in the neck of TB patients. It originates in the lymph nodes. By extension infection of the skin of bacterial origin .

escrupulos

The correct term is unscrupulous (with tilde always). It means distrust, disgust, punches, repairs, apprehensions, gingerbreads, fears, squeamishness, disgust.

escrupuloso

In Colombia it is used as a synonym for asquiento, jilimisco, fussy. A person who feels scruples, disgust or revulsion by many things, especially food.

escrúpulo

In Colombia we use it synonymously with regard to care, consideration, suspicion, fear, consciousness, mincing, repair.

escrúpulos

Plural of scruple . Qualms, awareness or considerations that you have to do something. It means misgivings, disgusts, looks, qualms, apprehensions, melindres, fears, remelets, repugnance.

escuadrón

It is a basic unit of the armed forces, which can be a picket of soldiers commanded by a captain, a cavalry unit equally commanded by a captain, a fraction of the air force with a certain group of war aircraft or also a group of warships of the naval force. Squad Augmentative. Flotilla.

escuaje

Escuaje or uprooting is a condition suffered by young children when they begin to walk and fall several times from him bottom. It manifests with diarrhea and vomiting very foul, very difficult to cure and treat. It is only cured with massage of an elderly woman and a strip of white cloth. It is very rare, because medically it has no explanation. It is an inflection of escuajarse or detach it. Doctors say is that humans don't have rennet, but is something real and the only way that heals is as I have described it. It is even so common in peasant and indigenous communities that have trees which they call friends or accomplices, where to hang children's garments to order that their children will not suffer this evil.

escualizar

In Colombia we use the word escualizar to indicate search balance. It is the action and reaction of a body located in a spring to undergo two actions or anti forces. It is the reaction of a spring when it is subject to a weight. Cushioning.

escuáditos

In Colombia, it means weak, drawn, malnourished.

escuálida

Especialty in the Department of Tolima in Colombia, it means starved, bony, malarial, stunted, pale, weak, esmirriada, enclenque, skeletal, skinny. Person's unhealthy, sickly appearance.

escuálido

Especialty in the Department of Tolima in Colombia, it means starving, malarial, stunted, pale, weak, esmirriado, enclenque, skeletal, skinny. Person of sickly appearance, canijo. It can also be used to mean related to sharks (sharks).

escuchame

It is an inflection of listen. It means hearing, serve, perceive, learn, pay attention.

escuchar

It means attending to and understanding what another person tells us. Hear.

escudería

In Motorsport Slang and especially Formula 1, it means team. It is used by extension in all motorsports. Set of people made up of mechanics, auxiliaries, drivers, endowments and mechanisms that integrate a collective in an motor sport.

escudero

Warrior who uses a shield to defend himself. Page bearing the knight's shield. Gentleman's assistant. It is used as synonymous with page, companion, collaborator, helper. In Spain it is the surname of a footballer, who plays for Sevilla, as a defender. Its full name is Sergio Escudero Palomo .

escudilla

It is a kind of semi-circular shape bowl, which is used to take soup in the field. It is also a common name for a plant, also known as Paraguay or Yerbani. Its scientific name is Scoparia dulcis. It has medicinal uses.

escudillar

It means serving a soup, broth or changua on a plate where there is chopped bread.

escudo

It means protection, defense, amparo, coat, coat of arms, arms, emblem, gusset, Buckler, aegis, shield, Buckler, Buckler. Weapon usually defensive metal, designed to protect the body of the lances and blows of the enemy. Protection of arms and war ships, made of thick steel sheets. Name of the currencies of many countries which have already ceased to circulate (Chile, Bolivia, Portugal, Mozambique, Angola and several former Portuguese colonies). Currently only the Cape Verde Escudo being circulated.

escudriñado

Inflection of scrutinized . It means looking closely, finding out carefully, inspecting the adetalle, scrupulating, reviewing, investigating. Searching, figuring out, inspecting, checking, scrupulating, investigating.

escudriñar

It means searching, figuring out, reviewing very carefully. Examine carefully. Browse, explore, investigate, investigate, look, observe.

escuela

In Colombia it is a type of educational institution of a public nature and primary basic education. It can also mean education, doctrine, current, style, training, teaching.

escuelazo

Protest meeting held at a school. It can be done by only teachers, only students, parents and students or by all educational experience.

escuelita

Diminutive school, small school. School of vereda, with few students. Name of an old radio program (The Little School of Doña Rita).

escueto

It means simple, devoid of decorations. Precise, parco, concise, brief, sober, short, concise, naked.

escuinapa

Escuinapa is the name of a coastal town in the State of Sinaloa in Mexico. It is famous for its production of shrimp, peppers and mangoes.

escuintle

Escuincle can also be used. It is a term used in Mexico and Central America, of Náhuatl origin that means hairless dog. By extension, toddler, boy, pelaito.

esculcar

In Colombia is used as a synonym for requisitioning, rebrujar, spy. Action of inquire or find things among the belongings of another person, among other properties.

esculina

It is a toxic substance that is obtained from the false chestnut. It is used in Biochemistry to prepare BEA or ABE (Bilis Esculina Agar) which is used to isolate and identify Enterococcus, Salmonella and Streptococcus bacteria.

escullar

It means dripping, draining, watering.

escullir

In Catalan tiles or escullir is choose, choose.

esculpido

Inflection of sculpting. It means carving, molding.

esculpidor

Man who is dedicated to sculpting. Sculptor, who makes sculpture. It is dedicated to carving or molding.

escultismo

It is the generic name that receives the movement of boy scouts or boyscouts. Doctrine that forms children scouts. Promotes ecology and solidarity.

escultista

It means person who practices Scouting. Boyscout. Boy Explorer or Explorer .

escultor

He's the person who's making sculpture. It makes carving or molding shapes in three dimensions. Sculpter.

escums

escums is incorrectly written and should be written as "Escum, escumes" being its meaning:
Escum, is not the Spanish language but the Catalan Word. Its plural is escumes. Therefore, Escums is misspelled. The meaning is foam and foams.

escupida

Inflection of spitting. Action or effect of spitting . Spit, sputum. Have it expelled from the mouth.

escupidera

It is a container used in dental offices for patients to spit out. It can be made of steel, earthenware or ceramic. Repeated action of spitting. Throwing sputum or saliva.

escupinajo

Spitting, spitting. Block of saliva expelled forcefully .

escupiña

It means saliva.

escupitajo

It means spit, sputum, spit, spit, phlegm, gargajo. Strong ejection of airway secretion or expectoration. Action and effect of spitting .

escusón

Shield in Heraldry is a smaller shield that is placed inside a shield equivalent to a third of the size of the main and more, in the same way. Is situated in abyss and the center of the coat of arms. Overshield.

escutoide

It means similar or resembling the scutellum, part of the thorax of some insects (beetles or dung). It is the natural geometric form in which are grouped together and multiply the epithelial cells. It is a Prism with a vertex in the middle and has concave or convex side faces. In essence it can be summarized as a Prism with one vertex more.

escúter

It is an anglicism by scooter. It is the same as moped or very light or faired motorcycle. Motorcycle of very low displacement that has a platform to support the feet.

esdras

Name of an Old Testament High Priest. Name of priest who was held captive in Babylon and who on his return introduced the Torá in Jerusalem. It is considered a male name of Hebrew origin and also an abbreviation of Azaryahu, which means God helps. Name of a Book of the Holy Bible, of the Old Testament.

eseccional

The correct term is exceptional. It means privileged, unique, rare, unique, extraordinary, different.

esepto

esepto is incorrectly written and should be written as "Except" being its meaning:
The word is incorrectly written. Skeptical or esepto is a wrongly refer to skeptical or skepticism. Unbeliever, atheist. Except: Is an adverb of mode, which means except for outside, without which, however, no.

esfeno

It is a type of mineral, of the class of silicates. Chemically it is a silicate of Titanium and Calcium. It is also called sphene or titanite.

esfera

In Geometry it is a geometric body that is shaped like a ball or ball. Which is balloon-shaped.

esferificar

It means spherically shaped an object or thing. Assemble or form a ball or ball.

esfero

In Colombia and especially in Bogota it is the same as spherographic, pen, birome, pen. I implement that it has a mine with ink and that it is used to write (the explanation of the word is that at the tip of every mine there is a ball or metal sproom that rotates and makes the ink flow).

esferodactílicos

It is the castilianization of the technical word Sphaerodactylidae, which is the name of a family of geckos. It means with round or circular fingers.

esférica

Concerning the sphere . It has a balloon, ball or ball figure. Colloquial ball, ball, ball, spoiled, freckled.

esforzato

This word is not in the Spanish language. If it's Italian, it should be written Sforzato. And in Spanish it means brave. Worked hard, it means, with much difficulty, with much effort, forced, demanded. Singing it is giving a sustained with great force, which generates much difficulty.

esforzato

This word is not in the Spanish language. If it's Italian, it should be written Sforzato. And in Spanish it means brave. Worked hard, it means, with much difficulty, with much effort, forced, demanded. Singing it is giving a sustained with great force, which generates much difficulty.

esgrimista

It is the term used to designate the athlete who practices fencing, in any of its modalities (foil, epee, sabre). By extension it is used in Colombia to designate a person who is an expert in avoiding or dodging problems, a peaceful person who does not get into trouble or trouble.

esguellant

In Catalan it means squeals.

esguízaro

It means poor and helpless. Helpless. needed. Swiss.

eskarri casco

It is a phrase in Basque meaning search, use or get case. It is a safety notice in the industry involving the use of helmet is mandatory when entering.

eskay

It is the name of a record producer in the United States, of Greeneville, Tennessee. It is the way of pronouncing the word of English Sky (heaven).

eskrima

Philippine fencing. It is a type of martial art very heterogeneous and without defined standards. It varies a lot according to the teachers who taught it and its training schools. It also receives the names of Arnis or Kali. It has also influence of other martial arts and even Spanish classical fencing schools.

eskuzabaltasuna

It is a word of the Basque language. In Spanish it means generosity.

eslabón

The name of each of the pieces in the shape of a ring or a closed curve, which makes up a chain. Annular and independent piece forming a chain. An element that serves as a link and relationship in a series of things.

eslardar

It means to cause itching, scratching, generating itching, itching. Scratch .

eslavo

Name of an ancestral Indo-European people who settled in the central part of Europe. Name of the language spoken by that people.

eslinga

It is the name given to a tape, belt or safety strap, which is used for the laying of loads.

eslogan

Phrase or Word that promotes a product. You mean motto, you luggage. It is the castilianization of the word Slogan, which means short propaganda, slogan, review, theme.

eslovaco

It means that Slovakia is a European country. Name of the language spoken in Slovakia.

esloveno

It means that it is native to Slovenia, a country located south of Austria, in Central Europe and with coasts on the Adriatic Sea. Name of a primitive people of that same region and the language they spoke. .

esmalte

In Colombia we say a kind of oily paint enamel. It is a technique of art which is a coating of parts with a layer of glass powder and a special substrate at high temperatures. Used in pottery, ceramics and other handicrafts. In anatomy and dentistry, is natural glossy coating that covers the teeth. It is a cosmetic for nails.

esmaltes

Viscous substance of varied colors that ladies used to beautify the nails. Paints or lacquers used to paint outdoors.

esmedregal

It is a marine fish of Rachycentron genre that is known by other names such as black tuna, cobia, peixopalo, cod. He lives in the Gulf of Mexico. Its scientific name is Rachycentron canadum. There is another called Pacific Amberjack 40 marine fish; Seriola dumerili) but this is a Perciformes of the Carangidae family and has the names of fish, lemon, seriola, coronado or milk. Some mistakenly tell him esmedregal and generate confusion.

esmerada

It means with dedication, with eagerness, with good attention, with effort. With efficiency and promptness. Dedicated, consecrated, applied.

esmeralda

Emerald is incorrectly written and it should be written as Emerald (41 own name;. being its meaning:
Emerald is the name of a gemstone of green, who is in Colombia in the mines of Muzo and Somondoco, Department of Boyacá. It is a green variety of the Beryl and sometimes has small amounts of chromium and vanadium. He is also the a woman's name, which means " Which radiates purity " " Beautiful as the same name 34 gemstone; It is a name of Latin origin. Name of Venezuelan Telenovela that Lupita Ferrer played. It is also a light green colour.

esmeraldear

Work in emerald mine or negotiate with them. Work of the emerald .

esmeraldeño

It refers to who is a native of the Province of Esmeraldas in Ecuador. It can also refer to the native of the Canton or the city of Esmeraldas also in that country. The city is also called San Mateo de las Esmeraldas.

esmerarse

It is the action of putting interest or commitment to run something and do it well. Being anxious can worry, striving, devote, devoted.

esmerekjón

It is the common name of a type of kestrel or falcon. It is typical of the Northern Hemisphere, it is found in Europe and North America. Its scientific name is Falco columbarius and belongs to the Falconidae family.

esmeril

Very hard mineral from which you get dust or abrasive sand. Iron and Aluminum are generally constituted. Stone used for grinding, polishing or polishing. Grinder. Small and small caliber artillery piece. Circular deformed machine or instrument used to grind (grind, polish, file, sand) . It is used for sharpening and for raer metals.

esmerilado

It is an inflection of grinding. It means turn translucent, polished with a grinding wheel. Glass polishing with Emery. Matte and translucent glass.

esmero

It means eagerness effort, dedication, consecration, application, judgment with which they execute the activities.

esmirriada

It means skinny, very thin, bony, starving, malnourished, squalid. Hungry, hungry, needy. Anxious.

esmirriado

In Colombia used as synonym of thin, fatigued, lean, skeletal, stunted, enclenque, squalid, canijo, sick.

esmorzaret

Lunch at noon or in the early afternoon. Lunch. Although the word translates to lunch, the reality is that for Valencians it is earlier (9 to 11) and more abundant.

esmostolar

Esmotolar is the same as desmotolarse. In Colombia to the head also tell motola. Sticking a super, give it a whack, clubbing, is fall and suffer damage to the body, especially on the head. Esnucarse, leave is wake is, flinging it, apachurrar be, pinching. Give a guarapazo.

esmuir

It is a term used in farming or agronomy. It means take a branch and shake so that you fall fruits or leaves it to harvest them.

esncia

takes is incorrectly written and it should be written as "Essence" being its meaning:
Features essential and necessary to be what we are. Perfume, extract or concentrate of a substance. The most pure, refined or fine any thing.

esneider

Sneider or Sneyder is also used. It is a male name of Germanic origin and means tailor, the one who makes or arranges the dresses.

esneyder

esneyder is incorrectly written and should be written as "40 Esneyder; is 41 name;." being its meaning:
Esneyder is a name of Germanic origin male and means tailor. The names Wikia, Sneyder, Sneider and Neider are variants.

esnobismo

It means pedantry, presumption, cheesy. Tendency to practice or use what is not natural to you. Affectation, acquired.

esodermo

It means inside the skin. It is the name given to the inner membrane of insects. The palabra has two lexical components of Greek origin which are: the prefix eso- (inside), and derma (skin).

espabilar

In Colombia is the action of neglecting for a moment, the momentary dream. Wake up, learn, capture. Also means teaching training fall, spurring, lighten, enliven, Eaglets, asusar. Amodorrar be, fall asleep, espabilarse

Means to be alert, vigilant. Wake up, mind you, learn, understand, capture, understand, figuring out how.

espachurrarse

In Colombia it means crush is, apachurrar is. pinch it. Grind any part of the body with something heavy.

espadaña amarilla

It is one of the common names of a plant. It is the same yellow lily, yellow lily, acoro, fleur-de-lis. Its scientific name is Iris pseudacorus and it belongs to the Iridaceae family.

espadilla

Sword diminutive. It is the name of a Spanish municipality in the Province of Castellón (Valencian Community). It is a red sword-shaped badge worn by the Knights of the Military Order of Santiago. Needle or pin made of ivory, carey or metal that women used to collect their hair. It is also a tool used to sword hemp. Tascador, macer.

espagiria

It is the name given to the production of medicinal plant-based medicines and through alchemy processes.

espaguetada

In Colombia is a gathering of friends or relatives to eat spaghetti. Sorry to meet. Everyone prepares the spaghetti to your tastes, choose the ingredients that most likes, served only in each dish portion of spaghetti to the date.

espais

In Colombia we tell them spaces to shoes to practice athletics in speed.

espaldar

In Colombia back on a chair, sofa, poltrona or stool. Part of the chair to support the back. Back of a construction.

espamear

It is sending minor information or trash via email. Send spams or spaames.

espampanar

The correct term is trimming. In Colombia means show beautiful, shiny, shocking, phenomenal, admirable, marvelous, wonderful. Dazzle, amaze, astonish, impact, fascinate. It also cut the pampana cluster of banana, banana or banana. Outspoken, openly.

espanchurrao

It means compressed, crushed, appeased. It's browned.

espanglés

It is a colloquial and popular mixture of Spanish and English, languages which has developed in United States Latin colonies and is used in colloquial way in many parts of Latin America. Espangish or Spanglish. One of the more colloquial phrases is "Open the window, pa' among the air" or "I am very happy".

espantabruixes

You mean scarecrow. It is a term of the Catalan language.

espantajo

You want to say ugly thing and that scares. Puppet, scarecrow, eyesore, marionette, grotesque, Phantom, coconut, horror.

espantar

In Colombia it means scare, causing fear, cause panic. Away, withdraw, panic, impress, horrify, scare, scare, scare, eject.

espanto

It can mean spirit, soul, ghost. Scare inflection which means scaring, impressing, burying, frightening, horrifying. It can also mean zooming out, driving away, expelling, rejecting.

espanzurrar

espanzurrar is incorrectly written, and should be written as Despanzurrar. being its meaning: in Colombia use more word despanzurrar. It means espichar, crush, pinch, gut, apachurrar, it despachurra, remove the viscera of the belly (usually a bird)

españa

It is the name of a European country, whose capital is Madrid. It is a surname in America, of Spanish origin.

español

It means from, alocal, resident in Spain or related to Spain. Name of a Spanish football team. Espanyol. It is also the name of football teams in Mexico, Uruguay and Argentina. It is also the surname of an Entomologist born in Spain. His name is Francesc Español Coll . Name of the second most spoken language in the world, also called Spanish.

espar

In Spain it is a surname of Catalan origin. Last name of a former Catalan handball player and coach, known as Xesco Espar (His full name is Francesc "Xesco" Espar Moya). Last name of two players of the Olympic water polo team of Spain, called Anna Espar and Clara Espar (daughters of Xesco). In Puerto Rico it is a deformation of the word sperm, which is a way to call a candle, velon or candil.

esparabel

The correct term is esparavel, with v. It is one of the names that receives a type of circular network, used by river fishermen, swamps and lagoons. It is also called tarraya or atarraya. It can also be a kind of wooden pallet or flat wheel with a handle that is used by work masters to mix cement.

esparcio

esparcio is incorrectly written, and should be written as "Scattered" being its meaning:
The correct term is spread. It is a turning-point spread. It means water, distribute, sprinkle, disseminate, desperdigar, extend, disperse.

esparteína

It is the name of an alkaloid found in many plants of the Fabaceae family. Its presence is frequent in the genera Lupinus, Cytisus, Baptisia, Genista, Sophora and Ammodendron. It is also found in plants of the genus Pelargonium, of the family Geraniaceae. It has medicinal and cosmetic uses.

espastico

The correct term is spastic, always with tilde. It means that it is the product of a spasm or is relative to spasticity. Relative to a spasm. In medicine is a muscle hypertonia of brain origin that manifests itself by spasms. It can be, for example, a yawn class.

espata

In Botany it is a type of bar or flower lagoon wrap, especially those of plants of the Araceae family. They have the appearance of the handle of a sword.

espatifilo

It is the Spanishization of the term Spathiphyllum. It is the name of a genus of plants in the family Araceae. It is one of the common names of a plant of beautiful flowers. We also know them as cartridges, the cradle of Moses, the wind candle, the flower of peace. Flower that looks like a sword.

espádice

In Botany it is a type of flower that is shaped like a fleshy spike or sword. It is the flower type of many plants of the Araceae family.

espádices

Spadice Plural. In Botany it is a type of flower that is shaped like a fleshy spike or sword. It is the type of flower of many plants in the Araceae family.

espátula

A variously shaped utensil, almost always consisting of a sharp plate, plate or sheet and a handle, and used to scrape or rub certain surfaces. There are metal and plastic materials. In some parts they are also called paddles or scrapers. There are also some used in printing presses that serve to properly distribute the ink and other special ones used by painters. In biology it is also the common name for a type of wading bird.

espátulas vómicas

They are elongated, spatulate and curved implements that are used to induce vomiting before indigenous rituals. This practice is performed to "purify the body", leaving the stomach empty, which allows the officiant to be impacted with greater effect by hallucinogenic dreds and facilitates rapid entry into trance. They are usually made with manatee rib bones.

especies

It is a French word, used in biology, which in Spanish means species.

especia

It is a type of seasoning that is used to give better flavor to meals. It is usually an aromatic plant substance. They can be seeds or bark macerated and treated.

espectro

In Colombia is used as synonymous with apparition appeared, Ghost, spirit, soul, vision bogey, bogey. Gaunt, decaida and extremely thin. Corpse. Anything that cannot be categorized or graduate, is the range of possibilities ranging from the maximum range, to a minimum. It is also a fan, amplitude, bandwidth, range, gradation.

espejo

Glass sheet that coats a layer of azogue that serves to reflect images. Toilet utensil. In Colombia it is a surname of Spanish origin. It's also a way to call someone worthy of emulation, which is a good example.

espejo

Sheet of glass that is covered with a layer of whipping that serves to reflect images. Toilet utensil. In Colombia it is a surname of Spanish origin. It is also a way to call someone worthy of emulation, which is a good example. In Spain it is the name of a town in the Province of Córdoba, in Andalusia.

espejuelo

Derived and despective of mirror . In ancient times it was the same as glasses or glasses. It was used more in plural. In Colombia it is also a kind of sweet, usually guava. It can also mean decoy, bait. Crystallized plaster layer.

espejuelos

Plural mirror . It can mean glasses, glasses, glasses. It can also mean baits or lures.

espeleogia

The correct term is caving. It is the science that is dedicated to the study of the origin of the caves or caves, their flora and fauna. It is also the name of the activity of exploring caverns and underground chambers.

espeleología

It is the science that is dedicated to the integral study of caves, grottoes or caverns. Science of the speleologist .

espeleóloga

Person who likes to visit or explore caves, caves or caves. Woman who practices caving.

espeleólogo

Person who likes to visit or explore caves, caves or caves. Man who practices caving.

espelma

It means melted or warmed candle wax. It is used to keep the jams current for longer. It is also the popular way the word sperm is pronounced by many inhabitants of the Caribbean region.

espelotar

espelotar is incorrectly written and it should be written as messed. being its meaning: in Colombia used term is messed. It means arming the chaos, mess up, puzzle, bundling, disorganize, desbarajustar, anarquizar, derange. Assemble the despelote.

espelón

It is a term from the maya language (x'pelon), which means black beans. The term is used in the State of Yucatán, Mexico. Other common names such as: Yorimon, yorimun, cow bean, pea, barroso, Chinese bean, cowpea, veneer, chicharillo. Scientific name Vigna unguiculata, of the Fabacea family.

espelta

It is a variety of wheat, with scientific name Triticum spelta. Referred to as wheat spelt, einkorn greater, greater spelt or spelt wheat. It is a hybrid of wild spelt (Triticum abiotic). It has a coarser grit. It is cultivated in the Iberian Peninsula from about 5000 years ago.

espeluznante

It means that it causes a lot of fear to the point of making your hair stand on end. It means that it produces dread, that it is overwhelming, shocking, frightening, chilling.

espenzuela

It is a diminutive and contemptuous of espensa in Asturian language (expense in Spanish), which means spending, costs, emoluments. In South America, is a laxative preparation to cooking some fruits. Laxative home.

espera sentado

It means that it should be expected with calm and tranquility that is going to do is delayed, missing long enough so that treats you.

esperanza

Second theological virtue (the others are Faith and Charity). A woman's name of a Latin origin and it means the one who trusts in God. It is a mood in which you have good expectations so you want it to happen.

espercojao

It is a typical expression of Granada, which means extremely clean. Unpolluted. limpid. Grotesque . That it is not pork, that it is not dirty.

espercudio

espercudio is incorrectly written and should be written as Espercudio or better despercudió. being its meaning:
The correct term is espercudio. It is an inflection of espercudirse, which means clean, bathe. The term most used in Colombia is despercudió. It means very clean, newly neat and the verb is to clean it. Removed the scab, the grime and dirt.

esperma

In Colombia is a way of calling a candle. Also in Colombia is a form of call of seminal fluid or semen. It is a fatty substance that is extracted from sperm whales and other cetaceans older. Waxy substance which is used to make candles, candles and oil lamps.

espermaquía

It means the first men's ejaculation. It is the arrival of sperm production in men. It usually occurs at about age 12, and is almost always involuntary during a dream. Scope of men's sexual development. Home of ejaculations.

espermicida

It is a substance that is used as a method of birth control and has the function of preventing sperm from reaching the egg. It can work by blocking the cervix or slowing sperm mobility.

esperón

It is a surname of Spanish origin. Surname of Mexican actor and musician named Manuel Esperón. Surname of Argentine footballer named Ezequiel Esperón. It is also the name given to a stone that is used to mutiny a scythe. A sharp piece worn by some sailboats on the bow.

esperpento

It refers to something very ugly, bad appearance, which is not pleasant to the eye. Done something wrong or poorly developed. In Colombia is synonymous with marionette, eyesore, scarecrow, birria, facha.

esperreque

It means rag, rag, useless and worthless thing. Person enclenque, skinny, weak, sickly, stunted, emaciated, enteco, flimsy, canijo, tilico.

espesura

It is the quality of thick or dense. In Colombia it is also used as a synonym for jungle, manigua, forest or very dense mountain. Forest, weed, scrub.

espetado

It's an inflection to speculate. It means getting tough, firm or stiff. Stretch, stand up. Speak hard, firmly or rigidly. Pronounce things that may annoy or annoy someone else. It is also to brag, puncture or place a piece of meat on the grill. Speak harshly and convincingly. Vociferar. Hard, stiff, stretched, firm, upright.

espetar

Mean get hard, firm or stiff. Talk about hard, with strength or stiffness. How to pronounce things that other can disturb or annoy. It is also a thread, click or put a piece of meat on the grill. Speak with toughness and conviction. Shout.

espeto

Inflection of spitting. It means to ering, pricking, chuzar. Action or effect of spitting. Chuzo or rod with which the meats are kept on the grill.

espíamos

It's a turning point of spying. It means watching, watching stealthily, stalking. It also means glimpse, listen, investigate.

It means obtaining secret information trying not to be detected.

espiando

Inflection of spying which means to glimpse, to listen, to investigate, to observe. Illegally obtain military, industrial or scientific information, for the purpose of harming another or obtaining benefits. Listening, observing, watching, investigating, glimpsing.

espiar

Try to get information secretly or surreptitiously. Watching, listening, investigate, observe. Obtaining illegally information military, industrial or scientific purposes of harm to another or make a profit.

espichado

In Colombia it is inflection to spy. It means crushing, pressing, compressing, compacting. Crushed, oppressed, compacted, compressed. It can also mean deceased, dead, fined.

espichar

In Colombia it has several different meanings. One means to press, compress, crush. Another meaning is to leave, to go out, to move. It can also mean itching, pricking, punching, hurting. In addition, it can mean to die, to fend, to die, to expire.

espiche

In Colombia it is an inflection of splice, which has several meanings. It means press, compress, crush. In Bogota it is also used to say leave, retire, get away. It can also mean pricking, puncturing, itching, wounding or touching with something pointed or dying, dying, fenscer, expiring.

espicula

The correct term is spicle, with tilde. It is the accessory genital organ located in the tail of some nematodes. Penetration organ . It is also the name given to calcareous bodies in the form of spikes or needles, which have some corals. They are also called scleritas.

espiga

It is a type of flower of grass plants. Inflorescence, panicle or panicle.

espigada

It has good harvest of spikes. With lots of spikes. In reference to a cereal crop, full of spikes, with lots of grain. In Colombia it also means tall, gallant, slender, developed, grown.

espigadas

It means high. very high, which stand out for their height. It can also mean that they look like spikes or that they are long and thin. Plural of spiked .

espigado

In reference to a cereal crops, full of spikes in grain harvest. In Colombia it also means high, gallardo, slender, developed, grown.

espigal

You can refer to a site where there are many spikes. It can also be called a spy.

espilingar

It is the same as chilinguiar, hang, hang, suspend.

espina

In Colombia is synonymous with needle, needle, punch, sliver, skewer, tip and needle. Thin bone of a fish. Also used as a synonym for spine, backbone. In some cases used to signify concern, uncertainty, doubt, mistrust, suspicion, suspicion. Named after a beautiful Colombian vallenato song.

espinaca baby

Name given to tiny spinach. Tender or small spinach. Type of spinach that is special for salads or sandwiches.

espinal

It can mean relative to the marrow or spine. Land where thorns (thorny plants) abound. It is also a surname of Spanish origin. Name of a Colombian municipality belonging to the Department of Tolima.

espinela

In Mineralogy it is the name of a mineral that is essentially a magnesium oxide and aluminum. Crystallized ruby-like mineral. Relative to Espinel. In literature a type of verse or poetry. tenth. .

espinilla

In Colombia we say Shin to the front of the leg, front of the tibia and the fibula. Bobbin. It is also a small accumulation of fat that hides a pore usually the nose or face.

espinosa

It means it has thorns or skewers. In Colombia it is a surname of Spanish origin and also Jewish. It is native to the Shire of Merindades, in the Province of Burgos. There are also the surnames Spinoza , Espíndola and Espínola with the same origin.

espinosos

It means they have thorns. Pointed, sharp, spiny. By extension can mean difficult, difficult, arduous, hard-working, complicated, intricate.

espirales

It means curves, turns, helices, curls, snails, cachumbos, loop, loop. It is the plural of spiral. It is a closed curve line which will progressively your radio into a point.

espiritismo

It is a practice that consists of communicating with the spirits through a medium.

espiritista

Person who practices spiritualism. Animist. Person who claims to communicate with spirits or souls. That communicates with the dead.

espironema

In Botany it is the name of a plant endemic to Central America. It is succulent, perennifolia and ornamental. Its scientific name is Callisia warszewicziana. It belongs to the family Commelinaceae. It also receives other names : dragoncito , tripogandra , dragozinho .

espita

It is a type of valve or chin, which is used in barrels. It is tube-shaped and opens with a special type wrench. Valve, chin, faucet, key.

espías

The correct term is spies, without tilde. It's a turning point of spying. It means observing, watching, listening, investigating. It can also mean dragging, pulling, pulling. Plural of spy . Secret agents working camouflaged in another country.

espíritu

It can mean ghost, appearance, elf, body or soul. It also means intent, principle, substance, foundation, energy, verve.

esplacnéceas

It is the Spanishization of the technical term of Biology and Botany Splachnaceae. It's the name of a moss family. They reproduce by spores, using insects. They are entomophilic plants and coprophiles.

esplacno

It is a Greek prefix (splagkhnon) which means viscera. With this prefix we can form the word Spurnology, which in Medicine and Anatomy is the study of the viscera of the abdominal cavity.

esplacnologia

In Veterinary Medicine, it is the science that is dedicated to the study of the viscera of the thoracic and abdominal cavities of animals.

esplendor

It is to achieve the maximum development, greatness, intensity and perfection. That stands out much, it stands out, which is splendid, which has greater visibility. Glitter, glow, blink, glare, brightness, celebrity, gloss, fame, grandeur, luxury, magnificence, magnificence, development, boom, boom.

espléndida

It is a qualifying adjective which means that you have, cause or radiates much glow. Magnificent, splendid, wonderful, Super, superb, regia, wasteful, giving, generous, detached, bright, grandeur, luxury, sumptuous.

espolear

It is the action that indicates applying the Spurs to a horse. It is inciting or fustigar. Among fighting cocks, attack with the Spurs. Prick, puncture, stimulate, fustigar, harass, incite, espolonear, encourage, enliven, fuelling.

espoliche

Mozo or lackey who walks next to his master's cavalry. Walker. Also heel, blow given on the buttocks with the foot.

espolón

In Colombia means tajar (dam of rocks or concrete walls reinforced built to cut the swell of the sea). Rivers also installed to control and maintain the runway. Jarillon. Spur, finger that goes backwards in the galliformes birds. Artificial spur large and sharp, usually of carey and sometimes metal, that fits a weapon to the fighting cocks (in many Sumatra is forbidden use them). Abnormal calcification in the heel.

espolvorear

In Colombia it is to spread a powder on something. It is usually a term used in gastronomy or bakery. It may refer to spreading sugar, cinnamon powder, wheat flour or any other ingredient in powder or flour. Some agricultural or agrochemical inputs that are dry powders may also be sprinkled.

esponja

It is an invertebrate animal of the porifero type. It lives in colonies. Porous and elastic dough that serves to absorb. Toilet and kitchen element. It is also synonymous with foam. Inflection of fluff. It means inflate, swell or enlarge.

esponjar

In Colombia it's turning something fluffy. Give it sponge appearance. Make something less consistent or soften it, make it porous or inconsistent. Soften, lighten, afofar.

esponjarse

In Colombia: Angry, irritated, marginalise it, rage, inflate, swell, blown out.

esponsales

Pre-marriage agreement. relating to marriage or the marriage ceremony.

espontáneo

It means natural, simple, sincere, frank, free. It can also mean machine, automatic, unconscious, reflex, instinctive. That is done without thinking. Involuntary, sudden, sudden. That arises from one moment to the next. Unexpected. In Tauromáquia, person of the public that enters the square and makes several capoteos to the bull.

esporádico

It means it happens a few times. It is not repeated frequently. Eventual, unexpected, accidental, casual, occasional, unforeseen, sporadic. In Medicine, badly rare, it is not due to epidemic or pandemic, which is not the product of an outbreak or contagion.

esporozoos

Class of Protozoa. It is a group of single-celled parasitic microorganisms, which are reproduced sexually and by Sporulation. They lack cilia and flagella and belong to the Sporozoa class.

esposa

It is the role of women in marriage. Partner, woman, spouse. Shackle is an element of ring shape that is placed on each of the hands of a detainee and that is attached to a similar one with a short chain. Consort, rib, couple. Married woman. Inflection of wifery, which means to marry, to marry.

esposos

It's the same as spouses. Husband and wife. Couple united in marriage. Couple, marriage. Plural of husbands, husbands.

espóndilo

In medicine it is a way of calling each of the bones that make up the spine or spine. The word has Greek and Latin origins and means vertebra. Small articulated bone that is part of the spine.

espóndilos

It is the plural of espondilo or espondil. In anatomy is each of the bones that make up the spinal cord or spinal column. Vertebrae.

esprínter

Cyclist specialized in sprints (or sprints). It means sprinter, finisher. It is a type of athlete or sportsman (more than any cyclist) who trains for speed tests and especially to acquire great speed in the final meters of the competition. In Athletics is considered a sprinter, but not a sprinter who runs short distances such as 100, 200 and 400 meters. In Cycling are sprinters who participate in Pure Speed, 200 meters thrown, Keirin or 1000 meters. A sprinter can acquire very high speeds in the last 20 meters of a competition.

espuela

Sharp attachment of boots placed on the heels in order to puncture the ijares of the horse. It is also a very sharp attachment of metal or tortoiseshell which is placed at the fighting cocks. Bump that comes to the roosters in the legs and serves them as a defense. In Colombia in a colloquial way it means field, experience, knowledge, knowledge. RAM, punch.

espuerta

It means basket, basket, zoncho, cuévano, bench. Container made with esparto that serves to load things, especially fruits or market .

espuertas

Baskets is the plural of donkey. It means basket, basket, basket, capacho, cuevano.

espulgar

It is the activity carried out by many apes or monkeys and some consistent human in removing insects from their bodies or hair, especially fleas or lice. It is the activity search, extract or remove fleas or lice. It also means investigate, find out, investigate, scrutinize, inspect, search, explore.

espumantes

Plural of foaming . It means that it produces foam or that generates bubbles.

espumógeno

It is the name given to an element that when mixed with water and air generates foams. It is very useful for the production of fire extinguishers for fire control. They can be of chemical or mechanical origin.

espurea

It means that it is not legal, it's a fraud. Illegal, fraudulent, false, illegitimate, bastard, counterfeit, adulterated, chiviada. Spurious.

espurgar

The correct term is to expunge, with x. It means redeeming, delete something which it considers wrong, annoying or offensive in a printed text. Atone, purge, forgive, wash, repair, purify.

espurio

It means illegitimate, bastard, fraudulent, fake, fake, adulterated. It's not original or it's not authentic.

espuñiar

It is a climatological phenomenon. It is rain gently, drizzle, usually sleet. Breeze sleet .

esputar

It means spitting, tearing or tearing phlegm and throwing it out of the mouth.

esputo

It means secretion or sputum from the respiratory tract. Phlegm that is expelled at one time. Froghoppers, escupitina, spit, phlegm, gargajo.

espúrea

It means it's not authentic, it's not original. False, illegitimate.

esqueje

Also called stake. It is a system of manual reproduction or propagation of plants. It consists of cutting a part of the stem or branch that has buds and is sown separately, until roots come out and transplanted. In Colombia we also say by little boy.

esquelético

Any tell very skinny, bones. Bony, starved, malnourished, anemic. That their structures, single look frame /referido to a building or a building, without roofs or facades.

esqueléticos

It means very skinny, bony, malnourished. They have the appearance of skeletons. Emaciated.

esquiable

It means that on this terrain covered with snow or ice you can practice the sport of skiing safely.

esquiafobia

It means that he fears or hates the shadows. That he is frightened by shadows.

esquiate

It is the name of a soup or stew typical Mexican prepared either with ground toasted corn (hard) or corn mush, gruel that add flowers and herbs, giving it a greenish color. They also say hesquite or isquite.

esquife

It is the same as caique. It is a type of light boat, without an ocuriara canoe-like covering. It was used to make the landing or approach of older ships or galleys.

esquilmado

Inflection of skimming that means stealing, leaving with nothing. Depleted, means victim of a robbery.

esquilmar

It means harvesting, take advantage, collect, exploit, exploit, exhausting, razing. In figurative way Rob, squeeze, swindle, bleed.

esquilo

The name of the first great representative of Greek tragedy, predecessor of Sophocles and Euripides.

esquilones

It is the plural of esquilón. It is each strand of hair or wool that is cut to the sheep when you are shearing it.

Esquila.esquilon is also the augmentative of shearing, which is the campaign or cowbell which is placed in the neck the sheep to know its location.

esquimal

Inhabitants of the poles or the Arctic. Blistering and jumpsuit costume used by babies. Romper.

esquimo

It is another way of calling the flower of the olive or the olive tree. Flowering of the olive tree . Rapa , cadillo , plot .

esquinazo

esquinazo is incorrectly written and it should be written as a coup. being its meaning: swipe that occurs with the edge or corner of a wall or wall, any piece of furniture.

esquipin

English Skipping. It is a distortion of the English word widely used in Spain and South America (Colombia and Argentina). The exercise run in short strides raising the knees makes reference. Is almost jogging on the spot by raising the knees.

esquire

It is a word which in English means Don (title of Sir, respected Lord or Knight, indicating respect). Elegant way to call a man. It also means escudero.

esquirila

It is a piece or fragment of hard material that has been broken violently and usually by an explosion. It can be wood, pasta or metal. Splinter, indigo, fragment.

esquirol

He is a hard-working individual, who runs counter to fellow workers who are on strike. Krumiro , sold , given away , strikebreaker , ?? yellow , ram ??? or crumiro . Name of a municipality or locality of Barcelona . It is a surname of French origin. Surname of a French psychiatrist, named Jean Étienne Dominique Esquirol, who worked in Paris at the Hospital de la Pitié-Salpêtrière clinic.

esquisto

In Geology and Mineralogy is the name of a mineral, more accurately a metamorphic rock, of laminar structure. It is the result of a clay under great pressure.

esquivan

It is an inflection of Dodge. It means avoid, Shun, evade, refuse, sort, ignore.

esrar hasta la bandera

The correct phrase is "be up to the flags". It means that the crowd goes beyond the capacity of the venue where. That is very full, full, full, crowded, crowded, crowded, crowded, overwhelmed,

esselen

It was the name given to an Indigenous American people who settled on the Carmel River and Arroyo Seco, in the vicinity of the Mountains of St. Lucia. it is a spar populous area of California and is known as Big Sur. The Esselens were displaced by the Ohlone of san Francisco Bay.

esta canijo

This canijo is incorrectly written and it should be written as "canijo." being its meaning:
In Mexico it is canijo, meaning: weak, sickly. In Colombia " this canijo " means this Coya, this little boy (referring to the folly, the discomfort that generates being as restless). Restless, foolish, awkward, annoying.

estables

Plural of stable. It means firm, fixed, motionless, rooted, safe, balanced, unalterable, durable, permanent.

establo

In Colombia is a shed where livestock is kept at night. Stall.

estabo

It is the name of a Swedish town located near Stockholm.

estabulación

It is the action or effect of lairaged. It means locking up or put the animals in a stable. Confinement of animals in a shelter to protect them from the inclement weather.

estaca

In Colombia is a piece of wood tipped to nail on the ground. Launches, branch, stick, stick, tip. It is also an inflection of staking is what nailed a tip or splinter of wood and also stay static, still, rigid.

estacada

In the sport of skating it is the action by which a skater lengthens a leg forward to try to pass a skate at the finish line first. Estacata is also used. Set of newly nailed stakes (it can be in a fence or in a crop that is sown by that agronomic method).

estacional

It means that it is relative to the seasons. It means that it is temporary. which occurs only for a certain time.

estacón

It's a stake augmentative. In Colombia, especially in the Eastern Plains, post for close. Large stake.

estaderto

estaderto is incorrectly written, and should be written as "Estadero" as meaning:
I think that the question is Estadero. In Colombia is another way of calling the restaurants that are along a path. Fondas, Almorzaderos.

estadio

In biology means stage, period, phase, part of a metamorphosis. Ancient measure of length which was equivalent to about 125 meters. The eighth part of a kilometer. Enclosure closed with bleachers, where usually you can practice sports like football, baseball or rugby outfit. Coliseum, field, field, track, enclosure.

estadista

A scholar in state affairs. Ruler, political leader, guide. President.

estadísticas

The correct term is statistics, with accent and is the plural of statistic. Data that are in tables and allow to make calculations of various types. It is the branch of mathematics that allows you to use or to analyze data from a sample or population. Census counts, computations, calculations, records, lists, comparisons, patterns.

estado de coma

It is a vegetative state of a person, where he only breathes and has blood circulation, but he lacks the senses. At present, medically it can be induced, to achieve a better recovery of a patient.

estado de sitio

It is an exceptional state that many Colombian governments used to try to maintain the management of public order. This measure has also been applied in other countries, such as Argentina, Chile, China, Peru, Spain, Mexico and Bolivia. Equivalent to State of War. It grants special powers to the armed forces and leaves constitutional guarantees on suspense, allowing and facilitating acts of repression.

estados unidos

It means States or Governments who are working or living sister. The Union of several States. Name who have received several countries which resulted from the union of several States, some of which already changed their name (Brazil, Colombia, Venezuela and Belgium) and others who still have it (Mexico and United States of America). Geographically it is the name of a country made up of 50 States and a district, which is located in North America and whose Capital is Washington. There was also the project of creating the United States of Latin Africa.

estadual

It means relative to the states that make up a federal country. States of a federation or confederation. From the states. Federated , Federative .

estafadoras

Plural of scammer. It means swindlers, tricksters, thieves, blackmailers, rascals, liars.

estafas

Plural of scam. It is a crime which deceives a person, causing economic losses. Fraud, scam, theft, deception, dispossession and trap.

estafilino

It means relating to the palate, uvula or chime anatomy. The pharynx muscle. A group of insects known as the wandering dung beetles.

estajar

Estajar is weight loss, reduce the thickness of a sheet of metal, usually of iron.

estalactitas

They are calcareous, conical and pointed formations that hang from the ceilings in caves of natural origin. They occur in wet soils with high content of carbonated water that evaporates.

estalaje

It means very dirty and unpleasant appearance or appearance. Very unpleasant presentation. Dirt, appearance, appearance, presentation.

estameña

It's another way of calling a fabric known as ethanmine. It is a type of thick yarn fabric with a rustic appearance. Wool or worsted woven fabric.

estamina

Physical strength for endurance. Ability to resist illness or fatigue. Endure exhaustion. Vigor, stamina, endurance, endurance.

estamos fritos

It is a colloquial expression used in Colombia to denote that we lost, that there is nothing to do. We lost.

estamos fritos

"We're fried" is a slang Colombian expression which means that something went, bad, that hurts us. Irreversible, irreparable, irreversible, inexorably, lost, fatal.

estampado

It means that it has drawings or decorative engravings on top (referring to a cloth). It means that it has been made with a mold and printed or applied under pressure on a fabric or canvas. The process by which an inked iron or matrix is applied to a fabric.

estampida

It means unbridled race of cattle. Barajuste.

estampido

Thunderous noise. Loud, dry noise, usually produced by a gunshot. Din.

estampilla

Stamp diminutive . Stamp. Figurine or paper clipping containing engravings or printed . In Colombia we say stamp to a postage stamp. We also say stamp to a very persistent person or who sticks to another at all times. Inseparable company.

están como el perro y el gato

It is a slang way of saying that two people are irreconcilable, that they are of tremendous fight. It is most used to say " they live like dogs and cats " or " such as dogs and cats ". At odds. In the midst of war.

estancarse

In Colombia, it means stop progressing, keep static and at the same level, without improving. Freeze, immobilized, stop, encharcar be, back up.

estacionalidad

Having the quality of seasonal. That this subject to the stations, which depends on the seasons. That is seasonally, which depends on the time.

estándar

The correct term is standard. It is a anglicism (comes from standard). You mean pattern, model, reference. Which is commonly used or habitual. Which is what is accustomed or is the current. Which has the most common features in all.

estanflación

It is a term used in Economics and refers to the worst scenario that may arise. It consists of the stagnation of economic development, with an increase in unemployment and accelerated inflation. During stagflation there are also very high unemployment rates.

estantigua

It is a terrifying vision, which produces terror. Ghostly vision. That causes dread or dread. Something that looks very ugly. Esperpento , adefesio , espantajo , birria .

estar a la trinca

In Colombia means to be attentive, be on the move, prevented, security guard.

estar alguien en la pomada

Colombia means to know in depth on a subject and also means belonging to a group of privileged, chosen, to the elite.

estar alguien hecho un nazareno

Person with multiple wounds bleeding profusely, victim of a beating. It means hurt, battered, lacerated, beaten. Made a Christ.

estar alguien hecho una pavesa

It means exhausted and fragile, exhausted and weak. He has lost strength, without vigour. With a great disappointment.

estar barado

The correct term in Colombia is "to be stranded" with v . It means being vacant, jobless, ceased. It also means having problems with the car due to mechanical or electrical failures.

estar con el agua en el cuello

It is a colloquial expression to indicate that many problems, which are struggling have.

estar de la olla

It is an expression used in Colombia that means to be left in absolute poverty, to be without economic resources. Having problems, finding obstacles and difficulties.

estar de vuelta

It means coming back, coming back. Have a second chance.

estar en boga

In Colombia, it means being in the curubito, be fashionable, live in the mouth of everyone be excelling in something, have much reception or acceptance. Look to others. Public knowledge now. Have much notoriety.

estar en calma

Being calm, it means being calm, calm, peaceful. When it comes to weather aspects, it indicates stillness, that there is no wind.

estar en capilla

To say that it is the next to receive a severe punishment, or even to be executed. Threatened. Colloquially, be on waiting list, waiting for the turn.

estar en la ruina

It can be a definition of peelor or liquid.

estar en las nubes

the expression " Be in the clouds " It is similar to be elevated, be included, gone, elevated, abstracted, lelo, self-absorbed. Another meaning is being in love, focused, self-absorbed, meditative, thoughtful. Believing himself superior to others, endiosado, vain, believed, cocky, grown, arrogant, proud.

estar en las nuves

34 Colombia; be in clouds " It means encompassed, elevated, gone, lelo, distracted, self-absorbed, self-absorbed,

asleep.

estar en mi mano

The locution "be in my hand, " or have it in my hand, " they mean that the other person is willing to accept what I ask, or decide. That I fully have their support. Unconditional.

estar en pelota

34 expressions are used in Colombia; be in ball " or " be in ball " to denote nudity, being underdressed, being without clothes. We also say be vitilingo, be bare.

estar en una situación boyante

It means not having economic problems. Have financial solvency. Economic situation that allows you to live very comfortably. Opulence, wealth, fortune, comfort.

estar fregado

In Colombia, it is the same thing that "being in the pot". Means being in very poor health conditions or economic.

estar groggy

It means dizzy, with dizziness. In boxing, be about to fall into the canvas, on the verge of the knockout, reeling.

estar hasta la bandera

You want to say in Colombia, very full and saturated, until it stops, filled with tired, weary, copado. Most used in the plural to "be up to the flags", to indicate that a stadium, a venue or a bus is crowded.

estar hasta las tetas

It means very full, with the full quota, that there is no field or space to carry or include more. Full, tuquio, full, filled, copado, packed, crowded, crowded, crowded

estar hecho un basilisco

You want to tell the person ultimately angry, to exploit. At risk for someone to become violent.

estar irritado o irritable

Be irritated to say bravo, furious, furious, mad, exasperated. Irritable to say that easily is he may enrage, with a tendency to get bravo, malgeniado, easily, irritable, sensitive.

estar muerto de miedo

In Colombia means threatened, intimidated, fearful, timid, aguevado. In Colombia in a vulgar manner says "cagado startle".

estar patas arriba

In Colombia it means messy, revoked. Chaotic.

estar petado

It means full, full, crowded, crowded (with many people). Be or feel strong, vigorous, strong, muscular. Inflection of petar, which means to like, to please.

estar por las nuves

In Colombia "be in the clouds" it means encompassed, elevated, gone, distracted, lelo, self-absorbed, self-absorbed. Be flying, rambling.

estar sobrio

Remain sane, abstemio, in his right mind. Not having consumed liquor or any drug. It means moderate, measured, understated, austere, simple, entire, elegant, weighted, frugal.

estartaso

The correct term is to betazo , with z . In Colombia it means a strong and dry blow. It can also mean spark, corrientazo. Starting or starting a vehicle. Start action on the ignition of a vehicle to test the battery.

estasifobia

It is the irrational and unhealthy fear of standing or walking.

estatalidad

It means it belongs to or is relative to the state. Capacity deployed by the state apparatus.

estaticidad

It means immobility, stillness, paralysis, fixedness, stiffness. Property of standing still, not moving, paralyzing or giving rigid as a statue. Keep Static Property .

estatocisto

It is a georeceptor organ of some living beings (plants or animals). It makes the body orient itself with respect to the center of gravity and with it provides the necessary balance in its growth or movement. It is a sensory organ, which is basically formed with tiny calcareous particles.

estatuas

Plural of statue. It is a carved or sculpted work that resembles a person, a human figure or animal. It means still, still. It also means carving, sculpture, effigy, figure and Idol.

estatuido

It is an inflection of enact. It means to regulate, order, Decree, extend, regulate, establish a policy or a statute.

estatura

It means size, height. Measure that is taken to people from the base of the feet to the crown. Measurement of people from head to toe.

estatus

The state of a thing within a frame of reference. The position occupied by an individual within society. Favorable positioning according to a hierarchy or importance. Level.

estaurofobia

It is the name of the aversion or fear of crosses and crucifixes. It is also known as "vampire phobia". In many people it happens because they associate a cross with a dead or deceased person.

estándar

It means that it is the measure that has been taken as the most frequent, most common, the current, the average of an entire town.

estás cuadrado

In Colombia means you're hired, you are located. It means that functions, an office has been assigned and it was agreed the forms of remuneration. Balance in Colombia is to agree, arrange, agree, agree.

estáticas

It means still, still. They do not move, they remain in place, still.

esteatofago

It means the one who eats fat, gordana or tallow.

esteatopigia

It is a condition, more noticeable in women, which accumulates fat in the buttocks, or buttocks. Caderona and nalgona.

esteatófago

It means you eat fat, tallow, or bacon. Eating animal fat.

esteban

Stephen is a male name of Greek origin. It means the victorious, crowned, laureate. Name of a Saint of the Catholic Church. He was a Deacon of the Early Christian Church of Jerusalem. He was sentenced to stoning. His death was witnessed by Saul of Tarsus (later St. Paul). The Catholic, Anglican, Lutheran, Eastern Orthodox, Orthodox and Eastern Nestorian churches venerate St. Stephen.

estefanía

Estefania is a woman of Greek origin and means well crowned. It has Alternatively Estefany or Stefany.

estela

Estela or Stella is a woman's name which means the brilliant star that shines. It is of Latin origin. As a noun means trace, mark, sign, trace, track, memory, sensation.

estelada

It means it has s them, lists, stripes or thin stripes. In Catalan it means starry. It is the name given to a flag of Catalan unity and adopted by the independenceists. It has a blue triangle with a white star on the left side and the rest are 9 lists or thin horizontal stripes alternated from yellow and red.

estelar

It means relative to the stars. It can also mean that it leaves trace or footprint. Which marks, he points out. Which is very bright, very bright, of the utmost importance.

esteliano

It means coming from Estelí. Resident or related to Estelí . Estelí is the name of a city and a department in Nicaragua. Also Estelí , is a Spanish town in Asturias.

estella

Estella (in Basque, Lizarra; both co-official) It is a municipality and a Spanish city, located in the Middle West of the Comunidad Foral de Navarra, head of the merindad, of the party Court No. 1 of Navarra and the region of land Estella. La town is seated in a large meander of the river Ega, which opens between the mountains that surround it by what is known as the city of the Ega. It passes through the Camino de Santiago in the stretch between the capital of Pamplona community, which is 44 km away and the city of Logroño, La Rioja. Estella, Estela or Stella is feminine name, which means star, or wake (footprint that leaves a vessel moving in water or light trace of a body which moves in air).

estema

It's another way to call the Family Tree. A schema where a person's origins or ancestors are represented.

esteno-

It is a Greek prefix meaning narrow, snug, compressed, tightened and adjusted. In biology, it is used to designate elements, bodies or beings that do not support changes minimal in their living conditions. It is the opposite of the Euri prefix, which means wide range of resistance. The prefix steno helps us to form the estenotermo Word, that makes refererncia to animals that do not support minimum temperature changes.

estenopeica

The correct term is snopeic, always with tilde. It means small or narrow hole. It's a type of camera that doesn't have a lens. Photographic activity that is carried out practically without equipment. It works with a box or container, which has a small hole and a photosensitive (light sensitive) material.

estenostíridos

It is the castilianization of the Stenostiridae. It is a Latin word that means strong peak. A new family of birds is proposal, to classify a part of Monarchidae family Muscicapidae fantail, and is formed by the genus Elminia, Culicicapa, Chelidorhinx. They are expert in insects hunting birds during the flight. You are known as elminias, flycatchers (or round-leaved sundew) and fans.

estenotermo

Estenotermo is a term from biology that refers to animals or organisms that do not support minimum temperature changes. Forms the word with Greek prefixes stenosis which means Strait, snug, compressed, tightened and adjusted and thermos temperature or heat. In biology, it is used to designate elements, bodies or beings that do not support changes minimal in their living conditions. It is the opposite of the Euri prefix, which means wide range of resistance.

esteñas

Women or people from the udes or residents of Ciudad del Este, in Paraguay.

esteño

It is the way to call the eastern Punta del Este or the Eastern City in Paraguay. That comes from the east or the east. Eastern.

estepa

It means very extensive plain. Flat land and extensive. It is a type of biome or training plant, extensive, flat and primarily herbaceous vegetation. Ground or flat very extreme weather and little rain. In Colombia is a surname of Spanish origin. Steppe is the name of a municipality in the province of Seville. It is also another common name for some plants called Jara (genera Cistus and Halimium family Cistaceae, are herbaceous plants). There is also another so-called plant in Spain steppe: is the Hypericum balearicum of the Hipericaceae family, which also receives the names of wort or St. John's wort in the Balearic Islands.

estepicursor

It is one of the terms used for tumbleweeds. They are of several different species. Also do you want to be called Russian thistle? , plant or rolling shrub? o tumblehouse, also barrilla, abarrilla, capitana, salicornio, salicor, rodapaja, straw ball or pebble. They are plants that, when dried, form balls and roll with the wind dispersing their seeds. It means that it spreads vegetation over a steppe or flat sandy terrain.

estepillas

Estepillas is the plural of estepilla. It tells estepilla to three different plants. Digitalis obscura, also called Foxglove black or editing, it is of the Escrofulariaceae family. The Cistus clusii receives the names of Romerina or Rosemary male who is in the family Cistaceae. And the Cistus albidus, also known as Blanca Jara and which is in the family Cistaceae. All are small shrubs. All have medicinal uses and all are in the Iberian Peninsula.

ester

Proper name, but esther is incorrectly spelled and should be written as "Esther or Esther (is proper name)." being its meaning: It is a woman's name. Variant Ester . It means the star, the one that shines. It is of Biblical origin. Book of the Holy Bible in the Old Testament. The name is believed to come from Ishtar, goddess of love and fertility in Babylon. In chemistry it is the name of fats, which are an organic compound in which a hydrogen has been replaced by an alcoholic acid radical.

estera

It is a kind of carpet or rug made with woven palm leaves, which is used to sleep in very hot climates. The word used in Mexico is petate. In Colombia we also call them mats.

estercofago

estercofago is incorrectly written and should be written as Estercofago (41 tilde; he always carries. being its meaning:
The correct term is Estercofago (should always be tilde). Person or animal that eat dung, droppings. Dunghill, escatofago.

estereoscopios

It is an optical device that is used to make photointerpretation. This device consists of two lenses placed at an ideal distance to allow a binocular view of maps which gives a feeling of relief or three-dimensional vision. There are different shapes and sizes. It is a device similar to 3D glasses.

estereotipo

It can mean model, example. They are impositions of society in relation to culture, ideas, prejudices, attitudes, beliefs and opinions. It is also considered a stereotype something that is repeated or done automatically. Something to emulate.

esteriliza

It's a sterilization inflection. It means becoming sterile or infertile. Layer, neuter, remove . It can also mean counteracting any danger of infection. Disinfect, sanitize, purify, pasteurize.

esterilizar

It's a sterilization inflection. It means disinfecting, decontaminating. Eliminate any possible infected focus on a medical instrument. It is also becoming sterile a terrain, an animal or a medical or surgical instrument. Eliminate the production of eggs or sperm in an animal, so that they do not reproduce.

esterilla

It is a kind of carpet or rug made with woven palm leaves, which is used to sleep in very hot climates. The word used in Mexico is petate. In Colombia we also call them mats. It is also called a construction material made with cracked guadua. It is widely used in the coffee axis.