

SPANISH DICTIONARY

Pedro Gomez

INTRODUCTION

www.wordmeaning.org is an open and collaborative dictionary project that, apart from being able to consult meanings of words, also offers its users the possibility of including new words or nuancing the meaning of existing words in it. As is understandable, this project would be impossible to carry out without the esteemed collaboration of the people who follow us around the world. This e-Book, therefore, was born with the intention of paying a small tribute to all our collaborators.

Pedro Gomez has contributed to the dictionary with 43 meanings that we have approved and collected in this small book. We hope that the reader is very valuable and if you find it useful or want to be part of the project, do not hesitate to visit our website, we will be delighted to receive you.

Working Group

www.wordmeaning.org

7u7

The acronym 7u7, is an emoticon used in social networks that someone crying means. 7u7 defines someone sad.

a dios pongo por testigo

A phrase that made popular a great film and that means when someone commits to something in a railway and that will meet without any kind of doubt. It is very romantic the phrase but does not guarantee anything.

alirón

Like the manguara de huelva is another expression derived from the literal transcription of the pronunciation of English expressions or words. At the end of the 19th century in the mining operations of the English in Bilbao, the workers of the mines when they found a new vein of iron began to celebrate it and to shout "all iron" which in English means all iron. The locals who were out there made their particular version and created the alirón that initially served to celebrate with cachondeo the titles of league or cup of the local team, the Athletic of Bilbao. As this great team won many titles in Spain, only with local players, the word alirón spread from then on like wildfire to celebrate the victory of any sports competition. It was very famous the battle cry bilbao, alirón alirón the athletic champion.

aturuxo

Aturuxo is called an ancestral squeal of the Galician people. It was basically used to communicate between peoples. Used both in war and sexual claim or joy without more. It is believed that its origin comes from the Celtic peoples.

canelita en rama

Canelita in branch is a term used to indicate that something is very good. It would be interesting to know its etymology.

color que empiece con la letra j

Colors that start with J can be: Jonquil color pigments of the plant narcissus jonquilla. Jasmine, typical bars of lips. Silky, Junco, Jasper, Jaspon, Jaspeopalo, jungle, Jalde.

conr

ConR stands for Socially Responsible Procurement, being an initiative of the Spanish ONCE to promote social contracting. Such engagements cover areas such as decent work, social inclusion, accessibility measures, equal opportunities etc. .

covid-19

Covid-19 is the name that the World Health Organization has assigned to the coronavirus that has emerged in Wuhan and that has the world on the spot today. Covid-19 means Corona (CO) Virus (VI) and D (Disease) which in English means disease and finally the 19 which is the right number for it in order of appearance.

dar el pinqui

In the North of Spain used the pinqui or perform the pinkie when a layer of varnish is applied to a freshly slashed wooden floor. It would be curious to find out the etymology of this expression since it is something I do not understand.

demonstración

Demonstration means carrying out a series of concrete actions to certify that a statement, a fact or a theory are truthful.

extronista

The truth is that it is curious how new words arise. A successful program on relationships invents a throne so that a tronista or a tronista who are the ones who sit there are entertained and courted by other muscular and rubberized participants so that in the end the tronista decides for one of them. Then from there comes the fame and to sell more magazines or programs the word Extronista is added to the curriculum as if it were something of value and in fact it is because there are millions of people who buy those things. So an Extronist is not someone with real ancestors or an exalted culture who deserved in his time to sit on a throne or something similar.

falta de valor

Lack of courage means that he lacks the courage to face any situation that arises. "Cowardly" is said many times. It also means when something is useless or has no value, for example the Argentine peso, the Venezuelan bolivar.

fuerza histérica

Hysterical force is those out-of-the-ordinary physical reactions that the body is able to develop in extreme emergencies.

gadget

More unnecessary anglicisms, gadget means accessory or device. Widely used to name those new electronic devices with which we are inundated.

garillo

The garillo is a fairly unknown word but that in the world of vineyards is widely used or at least was widely used until recently. The garillo is a small sickle with which the workers of a vineyard extract the bunches of grapes manually. With the emergence of modern machines that extract the grapes automatically the garillo has been stopped and therefore the use of the word gradually disappears. Garillo is also a Spanish surname very settled in the Philippines.

guayar o guayando

In general cool or guayando rather means to be sad and crying. In Puerto Rico it can mean from glued dancing to grating a carrot for example or scratching the ceramic hob.

inculturizado

Inculturizado means that there is no culture or that it has lost because of the environment

lacuna

Lacuna is not a spanish word, its portuguese witch meaning is gap when you hurt.

las 12 uvas

The 12 grapes that are eaten in sync with the 12 chimes that the clock gives when it arrives at 00: 00 on January 1, is a tradition in Spain followed by millions of Spaniards who gather in front of the TV or on the street. It is assumed that if you eat the 12 grapes in each chime the new year that comes in will bring you a lot of luck.

licanólogo

The word licanologist or lycanologist means expert in werewolves. It really is a mistranslation of a word in a recent tim burton series. There is another better expression for it lycanthrope.

log4j apache

It is the name of the software library on which a security hole has been detected that makes vulnerable millions of Internet servers that use this technology. Log4j means log creator for java, log and 4 which is for in English for in Spanish and J represents Java. Basically what this library does is record the activity that takes place on an Apache server. The failure category is 10/10 ultravulnerable.

lux aeterna

Lux aeterna means eternal light in Latin, it is also the last single that has released the Californian heavy music band Metallica with a wild sound that reminds a lot of its beginnings. Also Lux aeterna is the title of a horror film and a short story.

manguara

The manguara is a curious word that comes from the characteristic idiosyncrasy of Andalusia in Spain, specifically in the province of Huelva. The word began to be heard in the world-famous mines of Rio Tinto, the English workers who in the 19th century exploited them went after the day to the tasca and asked for "man water" which in English means burning water and whose pronunciation resembles something like "manguara". The locals with their characteristic joy began to adopt it in a funny way and since then in the area you can hear people asking for the manguara when they want a glass of brandy. There is another story very similar to this with the word alirón, in this case you have to move a little further north of Spain. .

matemáticos

Mathematician plural . People who are engaged in mathematics

maxear

Maxear tell you when in a video game you have a character and evolve it to the fullest of its level.

mediocampo

Midfield is the most commonly used expression in football to talk about what happens in the football match in the middle of the field. In that area the midfielders play and there is usually talk of the work they do.

nft

Once again we are faced with an abbreviation of an English words "No fungible token" that translated into Spanish means "Token No Fungible". They are basically digital pieces with certificate of authenticity and transaction history. Blockchain blockchain technology allows tokenizing, to simplify it although it is not the same digitize, anything from real life. Pictures, photos, contracts, mortgages, videos etc. . . . could be examples of NFT. Currently there have been million-dollar auctions of these tokens, remembering quite a lot the million-dollars that are paid in the art market. The difference is that with an NFT you can't be fooled and with a picture you can.

olentzero

The olentzero is a being of Basque mythology that currently brings Christmas gifts to children and adults throughout Euskalherria (Basque Village). The tradition instead places olentzero as a charcoal burner who came from the forest to announce the winter solstice and to bring coal to all the houses to heat them, light and heat. That is why the Basques congratulate Christmas as eguberri on which means good new days. It is assumed that bringing coal to homes to heat them degenerated into the Christmas Day with all kinds of gifts to both children and adults, as expected in a society of insatiable consumption. The figure of olentzero has displaced in Basque society both Christian traditions such as the baby Jesus and the Anglo-Saxon ones embodied by Santa Claus or Papanoel and absolute dominion throughout the world.

pacta sunt servanda

Phrase used by Bildu and we can't enforce the agreement signed to repeal the entire labour reform.

pellets de plástico

Pellets are small portions of a material that are usually rounded in shape and no larger than 5mm in diameter. Plastic pellets, therefore, are small pellets of that material that are used to transport it. Those balls can be used in plastic injection machines, 3d printers, etc. . The origin of the word pellet comes from the Latin pilula which is the diminutive of pila or ball. Pellets contribute to the circular economy as they are part of the recycling process.

pin parental

Parental pin means giving parents the opportunity to make conscientious objections to certain subjects taught in schools. The issue of gender diversity gives vertigo to certain political classes because they think that explaining the current sexual normality of boy-boy-girl-girl relationships can cause their sons or daughters to become homosexual overnight and that therefore you have to spend later on doctors to cure that homosexuality. A shame that in the middle of the twentieth century you think so.

pinkie

In the North of Spain pinkie is used to refer to the varnish that is applied to the newly acuchillados soils.

pirulear

Lollipop in Spain means cheating, since a pyrula is a trap, an illegal etc. . In Latin America it is used when someone goes dancing, it is due to its origin to a well-known telenovela, Pedro el escamoso.

qatargate

Qatargate is the term used by the international press to refer to the scandal that has led to the investigation of the Belgian police into alleged bribes by Qatari money to influential members of the European Parliament to bring the World Cup to that country. In the qatargate has already proceeded with detainees and accused.

reduflación

Reduflation means increasing the prices of products without raising the official price of them. This is possible to do in packaged products that maintain their packaging but decrease the content. Reduflation therefore generates inflation by reducing content.

sajol

In Valencia sajol is used to refer to a variety of fig, saiol is also used. It seems that sajol is a word shared with Catalan.

semidragón

Half dragon and half snake

softlanding

unnecessary anglicism for soft landing in any discipline, aeronautics, financial etc.

tecnomagia

The tecnomagia is a magic that can make vibrate objects or things and also malefic or beneficial spells according to the young League of Justice can be done.

texto argumentativo

The argumentative text, as its name suggests, is the text that is used in a brief to argue a particular idea.

tqmpsqtntmqdlmm

A word, a modernity or a spawn of a new generation generated in the absurd social networks. tqmpsqtntmqdlmm comes to mean something like "I love you very much but I feel that you do not love me in the same way", as it is obvious the expression is used to explain a great disappointment for a love that is not corresponded in the same way or as it is due. It has been so great the expansion of this word (Similar to that of covid I would say : -)) that it is already used even to tag videos that show disappointments of any kind. From what I have verified it is used a lot in the social network of TIK-TOK and it is obvious that the RAE does not end up incorporating tqmpsqtntmqdlmm in its dictionary since its pronunciation is not possible.

transculturizado

Idiom to refer to a person who has been living cultures and that one of them or part of one of them has settled on its current culture. Transculturizado therefore means that it has taken features, parts or all of another culture other than their own.