INTRODUCTION

www.wordmeaning.org is an open and collaborative dictionary project that, apart from being able to consult meanings of words, also offers its users the possibility of including new words or nuancing the meaning of existing words in it. As is understandable, this project would be impossible to carry out without the esteemed collaboration of the people who follow us around the world. This e-Book, therefore, was born with the intention of paying a small tribute to all our collaborators.
JOHN has contributed to the dictionary with 4154 meanings that we have approved and collected in this small book. We hope that the reader is very valuable and if you find it useful or want to be part of the project, do not hesitate to visit our website, we will be delighted to receive you.

descriptor neutro
NEUTRAL DESCRIPTOR A descriptor helps to understand who you are and what you do. If your company name isn't self-explanatory, a descriptor can help. In short, it is very useful when it comes to segmenting a target audience with identification problems. But here it specifies it as neutral, then it is a specific descriptor, that is, descriptors that identify the categories. This is widely used to reference and allow search engines to find texts that include the concepts of interest of the user When all the text of a document or record or part of it matches a descriptor, the document or record is linked to the category. Thus, the descriptor is asked and the texts found are returned. In this context we can define neutral descriptors such as does not know/does not respond in statistical texts, or empty cases where no descriptor coincides and there is no matching between the search and the texts.
