INTRODUCTION

www.wordmeaning.org is an open and collaborative dictionary project that, apart from being able to consult meanings of words, also offers its users the possibility of including new words or nuancing the meaning of existing words in it. As is understandable, this project would be impossible to carry out without the esteemed collaboration of the people who follow us around the world. This e-Book, therefore, was born with the intention of paying a small tribute to all our collaborators.

Nancy Jervis has contributed to the dictionary with 4 meanings that we have approved and collected in this small book. We hope that the reader is very valuable and if you find it useful or want to be part of the project, do not hesitate to visit our website, we will be delighted to receive you.

al final del túnel

It seems to me that this phrase is a partial translation of the expression in English: "Light at the end of the tunnel" which means to intuit or glimpse a solution to a problem. (I am a federal interpreter in the United States).

chichirimico

The sense I've always heard him use and used personally is "a mess, mess." What English speakers call "a mess". I am born in Quito.

desconectado del mundo

Living outside the surrounding society, technology or situation. Some synonyms, words or similar expressions may be living as a hermit, living without caring what happens around you.

sudar los dientes

Sweating your teeth means exhausting yourself in a titanic or excessive effort to solve a problem or task.
