INTRODUCTION

www.wordmeaning.org is an open and collaborative dictionary project that, apart from being able to consult meanings of words, also offers its users the possibility of including new words or nuancing the meaning of existing words in it. As is understandable, this project would be impossible to carry out without the esteemed collaboration of the people who follow us around the world. This e-Book, therefore, was born with the intention of paying a small tribute to all our collaborators.

Pancho Camacho has contributed to the dictionary with 3 meanings that we have approved and collected in this small book. We hope that the reader is very valuable and if you find it useful or want to be part of the project, do not hesitate to visit our website, we will be delighted to receive you.

Tinacal is a word well known in Mexico, is related to the exploitation of the agave, Maguey for us. The following link is an interpretation of its etymology: <http://www.alcoholinformate.org.mx/saberdelmundo.cfm?articulo=310>El maguey pulquero (Species of Agave) It grows in many places in the Mexican territory. Of their stalks, fibers are extracted to make ropes or woven, needle serves as a PIN or punch, pulp is forage for livestock, the thin layer that covers the blade was pre-Hispanic paper; However, the main branch of the maguey is pulque, which is obtained from the fermentation of its Mead. The tinacal is the site where is made the puque at commercial level. Apparently its etymology is mixed, - tina and calli, this last in nahuatl or casa tubs.
