INTRODUCTION

www.wordmeaning.org is an open and collaborative dictionary project that, apart from being able to consult meanings of words, also offers its users the possibility of including new words or nuancing the meaning of existing words in it. As is understandable, this project would be impossible to carry out without the esteemed collaboration of the people who follow us around the world. This e-Book, therefore, was born with the intention of paying a small tribute to all our collaborators.

Carlos Figueredo alvarez has contributed to the dictionary with 7 meanings that we have approved and collected in this small book. We hope that the reader is very valuable and if you find it useful or want to be part of the project, do not hesitate to visit our website, we will be delighted to receive you.

In Venezuela, the Peddler concept has taken on different meanings: the general is that which refers to a different vendor and different genres, usually of low prices, which moves constantly especially in large concentrations of people (sites; squares, churches, markets, fairs). Also called so the seller to set a fixed site (assigned by any agreed or municipal authority among them). It belongs to the so-called informal economy (They are not included in the determination of the product internal gross) or registered. Another meaning is: self-employed; works committees. It acquires the goods from a wholesaler (In some cases it was their patron,) and sells it on account of this in close public places or not, to the headquarters of your provider.

In the State of Lara, Venezuela, "34 cot"; and in popular sense, we understand a rudimentary piece of furniture that is transformed into bed, also a bed when already for prolonged use or damage, barely gives the expected service. We also use the expression "camastron" to refer to a piece of furniture as the aforementioned but of bigger regular and by extension it is applied to models discontinued, already passed fashion and large vehicles.

Neologism, with the same meaning of "give". Perhaps originated by referral from the concept "34 assignee"; ("opposite assignor") person upon whom rests the effect of the "34 assignment;

la mechá

Mechá, with that graphia, can be a deformation of the word MECHADA. In some Venezuelan areas, syllable suppression deformation is very common. Meat mechada is the meat, mostly vaccinated, that once cooked, is separated into its thin fibers to be served to the diner.

metateórico

Metateórico is a construct that refers to those who study of a thoughtful and constructive way a theory provided by another scientist. The metateórico is a kind of vigilante epistemic which gives reinforcement and scientific robustness to a theory with your analysis. Metatheory is the theory of the theory. It might be the case that the theory tested by their epistemic weaknesses is falseable and therefore detachable.

Transcomplejidad is a categorical concept emerging, typical of the epicalidad of postmodernism, in the come together synergistically transdisciplinarity and complexity epistemic categories. It means a form of see, perceive, approaching, build and deconstruct the social reality from different perspectives multidisciplinary, holistic, integrals, complex in uncertainty environments, where the actor in a cycle of recursive learning and Unlearning, ruptures and emergence of paradigms, apprehend and desapprehender, constructs, deconstructs and reconstructs the knowledge that defines and redefines the reality.

Unigénito in reference to Christ as son of God, does not mean only son, that that condition is contrary to the same Bible. St. Paul says, who accepts Christ and believed in is son of God. Hence unigenito means "the same origin" or "the same gene or genesis". Does this mean that Christ and God has a common origin.
