

SPANISH DICTIONARY

Rafael Zappia

INTRODUCTION

www.wordmeaning.org is an open and collaborative dictionary project that, apart from being able to consult meanings of words, also offers its users the possibility of including new words or nuancing the meaning of existing words in it. As is understandable, this project would be impossible to carry out without the esteemed collaboration of the people who follow us around the world. This e-Book, therefore, was born with the intention of paying a small tribute to all our collaborators.

Rafael Zappia has contributed to the dictionary with 3 meanings that we have approved and collected in this small book. We hope that the reader is very valuable and if you find it useful or want to be part of the project, do not hesitate to visit our website, we will be delighted to receive you.

Someone inept, worthless, little thing, sonso, silly, irresolute and lacking in value, without opinion,

gramado

Gramado is the grass or grass, grass that grows in a space defined, as in the case of a football soccer pitch; It is also used to define the territory of gangs or other concurrent, it can be the area of a park where there is grass, grass, lawn. This despite the fact that the lawn is something that is cared for with gardeners and grass grows as if it were wild grass

haragaña

lazy is a loose, idle, desacomedida, non-cooperative woman. I guess the n was inserted by mistake, would have to include the word in a context to discern with certainty, it is the only way. Don't think that it's a way " sui generis " appoint a spider, insect. Ah! Ah! already see as there are so many ways to say " jovensito " as bukki, lad, chibolo, chavo, chilpayate and many others more, but this is regional, local of certain countries...
